Traffic Safety Survey Due For Upland; Policy Told

Heightened attention to safety of pupils in crossing streets and highways on school days is being emphasized this fall by the Upland School District.

At a Board of Trustees meeting Sept. 8, a thorough airing of the problem confronting the school, City, parents and children was explored.

In a broad program, the School District hopes to alert all parents and children to the need for training and adherance to safety rules to protect children in crossing streets.

A new policy has been worked out with the City of Upland regarding special measures at the most difficult crossings.

If a traffic guard is to be used, the school cannot pay money, but if other kinds of signals are used, then the school district will pay half the cost.

The District must pass on the problem to the City when a complaint is made.

Of key importance is where safety devices or guards need to be placed.

The District authorized Supt. Harold Cook to work with the Automobile Club for an intensive survey of the City.

This will begin shortly after school has been open long enough for patterns and enrollment to settle down to get accurate figures and paths of children.

Several parents appeared at the School Board meeting to help spur action along safety lines, as they have voiced concern in the past for the safety of youngsters going to various schools.

A veriety of methods and specific suggestions were outlined by both the board and parents present to assist in developing a better awareness of traffic safety for children.

The School District and Board took the lead in the discussion, by outlining the new policy with the City, and then suggesting a broad approach that includes the school, the home, and outside groups such as the Auto Club, Highway Patrol, Police Department. Driver education, police talks, bike talks, and plain "don't dart into the street" advice was mentioned.

A citizens safety committee was suggested to help the cause. Literature will be sent home to parents.

There was complete agreement clear through the meeting that a child's life was important and that everything possible must be done to stress safety.

Specific action, however, was delayed generally pending the survey-in-depth to be made by the Auto Club, though the District was to proceed as far as possible and as quickly as possible.

In Upland one child was killed in a traffic accident four

BAKE-OFF CONTESTANT for the $25,000 Grand Prize in the 16th Grand National Bake-Off at Miami Beach, Fla., is Miss Janalynn Markum of 2317 Orange Drive, Upland, (right) who is being briefed in a G.E. "get-acquainted" session. The contestants began actual work Sept. 14 in the "Biggest Kitchen in the World" for the 100 contestants.

Civic Center Appraisals Asked For New Areas

Consider New Site

Many more appraisals of property were authorized by the City Council in its quest for a Civic Center site for Upland.

The completed report of the Capital Improvements Committee, reprinted in this story, outlines the Committee's report to the council and various possible sites.

The Councilmen agreed to the appraisals for the specific locations in the report, and also instructed the City Manager to get "estimates" on Foothill property, but not on the corner of Foothill and Euclid.

It also was noted that a meeting will be held Oct. 8 with the space study consultants which may help determine the area needed for the Civic Center.

The complete report is as follows:

Sept. 15, 1964

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS COMMITTEE

In 9-9-964 the Capital Improvements Committee met and discussed the appraisal of the Ameriiccan Right of Way and Appraisal Contractors for the proposed extension of the City of Upland Civic Center.

The 2 parcels of real property in the area bounded by Euclid Ave., Second Ave., Arrow Highway and D St., City of Upland were reported to have a fair market value as of July 31, 1964 of $738,578.00.

In view of the high appraisal the committee discussed a number of alternatives for locating the Civic Center in the same general area but eliminating some of the more expensive parcels of property. For example, the possibility of eliminating the property fronting on Arrow Highway appraised at $251,467.00 and using the property between D St. and the railroad tracks was discussed.

Another suggestion was to purchase the necessary parcels along the north side of D St. to widen the street for an impressive entrance to a Civic Center located between First and Third Ave.

Another proposal was to use the property presently owned by the city for police and fire facilities and locate the rest of the Civic Center buildings east of Third Ave. There are eight

CP Only For Bank

Development of the "most valuable corner in Upland" at Foothill and Euclid Ave. again was delayed by City Councilmen Tuesday night.

A Record of Survey was turned down, which is a "lot split" separating the property on the corner from the rest of the 12 acre parcel.

However, a Conditional Use Permit was granted by the Council fo r Security First National to build a big new bank directly on the corner.

The hitch in this case is that to get approval of the CUP the entire piece of property must be presented for development to insure an adequate plan.

In a long hour and a half discussion, the council first voted 3 to 2 to approve the record of survey, with Mayor Hawkins, and Councilmen Haideman and Christensen voting yes.

The CUP was approved in a 3 to 2 vote, with Hawkins, Christensen, and Gibson voting yes.

Then the vote to reconsider the record of survey, or reject it, was passed 3 to 2 with Gibson, Haldeman and Rossitter voting for this motion.

Councilman Haldeman sided with Rossitter on trying to enforce development of the entire piece. His switch to reject the original motion led to the "fine line" as he termed it, to hold up development until the entire corner could be planned.

In discussion after the meeting with the City Attorney, THE NEWS clarified a misconception left during regular discussion to the effect that the CUP approval meant the bank could go ahead without planning the entire piece. Without the record of survey, Atty. Don Maroney said the bank could not continue.

A Security First National Bank vice president at the meeting stated it was not possible to develop the entire corner because of the financial problems involved.

Councilman James Christensen led an unsuccessful fight to grant the bank full go-ahead rights at present.

Hunter Penn strongly urged the Council to take the issue of the Civic Center locating on this corner "to the people" for their consideration. He felt Upland needed a show place for its city government.

Alta Loma Bonds Easily Pass 6 To 1

Both the bond and state loan portions passed easily in the Alta Loma School Election Tuesday.

The $200,000 local bond issue had 307 yes votes to 52 no votes, with three unmarked ballots. A total of 362 ballots were cast.

On the $1,900,000 State Loan, the vote was 304 yes and 52 no, with 6 unmarked ballots.

The funds will be used as follows:

—10 classrooms at Alta Loma Junior High on a new site.

—12 classrooms and a multi-purpose library at Carnelian school.

—four classrooms and a library remedial room at Alta Loma School.

—four classrooms at Alta Loma Junior High.

—purchase of at least two additional sites.

Wessley Says Police Plan Improvements

Plans are underway for improved operations of the Upland Police Department, including a change from the city-operated jail to use of the county's new facilities in Ontario.

Police Chief John Wessely has plans for adding two more officers, and using "civilian" dispatchers.

Wessely said the old Upland jail is inadequate for modern operations, and the city cannot afford to continue operating its own jail.

Fire Department personnel act as dispatchers during the night, but the Fire Department is making changes, too, giving one more reason for the change to civilian dispatchers.

State Votes Against Splitting

Unanimously voting NO Sept. 11 on a proposal to form three unified school districts out of one high school district in La Puente was the State Board of Education.

Three elementary districts appeared before the Board seeking a split among the high school district.

The Los Angeles County Committee had recommended the three districts, while the State Department of Education, though recommending against the split, had done so mildly.

Vern Orum, Assistant Supt. of the Upland School District, who attended the meeting and reported on the results for this newspaper, said there were similar arguments presented that might be given for the Chaffey Union High School District, but that he felt the Board would turn down a proposal for this area should one be made.

Retire After 22 Years

Twenty-two years of voluntary service as of Sept. 1 with the Upland Police Reserve Corps, was celebrated with the retirement of Lenrad Smith and Earl Head.

They were honored at a dinner given at the Stuft Shirt on Sept. 8. In attendance were Police Chief J. A. Wessely and Councilmen George Gibson and Ronald Rossitter.

On behalf of the City Council, Councilman Gibson, chairman of the Police and Fire Committee, presented both men with certificates of appreciation for their faithful and loyal service to the city.

Chief Wessely on behalf of the Reserve Unit, presented each man with a wallet, inlaid with a replica of the reserve badge, bearing the inscription of the name and dates of service.

Chief Wessely praised these two men for their dedication and devotion to the cause of law and order in the community, recognizing that the only reward they received was the selfsatisfaction in knowing that they had some part in keeping order in the community house.

Both men are the last of the active members who were part of the original organization formed in 1942.

UHS Gridders Gird For Speedy Season

By Hoyt Baker
UHS Football Coach

This years Upland High School varsity football team will be short on experience.

There are 10 returning lettermen from the 1963 squad. Don Wilcox (Q.B.), Larry Van Tiem (H.B.), Ted Thrasher (F.B.), Jim Smith (H.B.), Mike Cox (End), Barry West (tackle), Kent Lindow (guard), Mike Bowen (center), Bill Jones (guard), Dan Maxfield (center), and Keith Zavitz an end who will not play because of a knee operation.

The following boys from last years Junior Varsity squad are working for varsity berths Rusty Stiffler (Q.B.), Larry Mendoza (tackle), Rick Dischinger (F.B.), Bob Miller (end), Jerry Vogt (tackle), Allen Jakolicic (tackle), John Baker (end), Jim Reeder (center), Bill Walk (end), Bob Lindboe (tackle).

Chamber Requests Return Of Cards

The Upland Chamber of Commerce wishes to have the cards returned to the office that were sent out two weeks ago on the survey, in order for them to complete the survey of the members and its goals for the Committee's program of work for the coming year, according to Floyd D. Taylor, Manager.

Alta Loma School Enrollment 780

Alta Loma School District enrollment has risen from 544 to 780 pupils this year.

BLUE GOLDFISH?

Blue metallic goldfish will be on display for the first time in the United States at this year's Los Angeles County Fair, Sept. 18-Oct. 4.

City Planting Camphors

First of the new Euclid parkway trees, camphors, were planted Monday between Ninth and C Sts. by city personnel.

First planting was 20 of the trees, Cinnamomum camphora, spaced at 50-foot intervals, in two rows.

The camphors are replacing the famed pepper trees that were planted in the 1880s, giving Euclid Ave. its look of simple beauty.

Camphors have a long life, and grow to some 50 or 60 feet high. Ontario is supposed to continue the pattern south of the Freeway.

United Fund Drive Luncheon Planned

Approximately 500 civic leaders from nine West End United Fund communities have been invited to the 1964-65 campaign kick-off luncheon to be held at The Royal Tahitian on Tuesday, Sept. 29, it was announced by Don Newton, campaign chairman.

Invitees include heads of business and industry, many of whom are being asked to turn in their major corporate gifts at the luncheon, individual large donors, West End United Fund board and agency board members and campaign workers, Newton said. "The interested public is highly welcome as long as tickets hold out." About 500 are expected at the lunch.

Featured speaker is John T. Wolfe, vice-president and general manager of AID-United Givers, an organization which has poured millions of dollars into community United Funds throughout Southern California in the 12 years of its existence.

In view of this year's emphasis upon employee and corporate giving through a Chapter Plan, Wolfe's address, titled "You are the 'U' in United," is expected to prescribe proven ways and means to an unprecedentedly successful fall campaign, Newton noted.

"The Chapter Plan is the key to a potential previously not really touched," he said. "I am confident our drive can start Oct. 5 with as much as $20,000 to $30,000 in advance gifts turned in at this luncheon. With this brand of success at the start, we can top our $225,435 goal. Nothing know."

Luncheon planners indicate that tables will be set up for each of the nine West End communities and presided over by young ladies recruited from among community queen contestants.

There will be a special table for mayors and chamber of commerce or club presidents who will act as official spokesmen for unincorporated communities. A table will be reserved also for W.E.U.F. executive committee members.

Campaign division chairmen will tot up the advance gifts generated in their respective jurisdictions as major contributors come forward with their checks.

The final figure will be recorded on a giant facsimile of a check which is being readied.

Campaign chairman Don Newton advises that invitees get their luncheon reservations in early.

Those wishing to attend may buy tickets at the West End United Fund office, 309 N. Euclid, Room 209.

Persons from the foothills participating in the fund drive are as follows:

Individual gifts — Emma Dagan, Jack Blair (chairman special gifts), Walter Holts, Henry Vollerson, Richard Manley, Lowell Donnell, Robert Thrall, Earl Hawthorne, Orville Garrison, Charles Millhiser, Paul Hottel, and Joe Kamansky, all of Upland.

Residential chairmen — Mrs. Huber Kalbach, Alta Loma; Lester Albin, Cucamonga; Mrs. Robert Vennum, Etiwanda; Mrs. EdRam stead, Mt. Baldy; Mrs. Ed Smothers, Mt. Baldy; and Mrs. Martha Kay, Upland.

Major corporate gifts division — Allen Lynch, Upland.

Finance division — Richard Price, Clint Thompson, Fred Mack, all of Upland.

Agriculture Division — Tom Carnesi, Rene Biane, both of Upland.

Division C Chairman — Vern Orum, Upland.

Upland School District Enrollment Jumps 23%

Enrollment in the Upland School District has risen from 3,727 to 4,596, an increase of 869 or 23.3% over last year, according to Supt. Harold Cook.

Mr. Cook described the increase as "sensational," and the "greatest in history," and well above the predictions.

The increase in 1963 over 1962 was 18.6%.

Supt. Cook said the district had planned on 4,400, or 196 less pupils than showed up for the first day of school.

He said he expected that additional late-comers would boost the total even higher within the next week.

As a result of this big increase, the school district now must hire three additional teachers definitely, and depending on late enrollments may have to have a fourth extra teacher, Mr. Cook said.

The increased enrollment aislo means the district will have to buy 85 to 100 extra desks immediately to handle the pupils. These desks would

High School Enrollment Increases by 698 Pupils On First Day Attendance

Enrollment for the first day in the high schools shows an increase of 698, up from 7,406 last year to 8,104 this year.

Broken down by schools, enrollment figures include:

Upland High School — 1,676 last year, 1,742 this year.

Alta Loma High School—670 last year, 971 this year.

Montclair High School—1,676 last year, 1,755 this year.

Chaffey High School — 3,384 last year, 3,636 this year.

These figures will rise, especially the second and third days of school, and will continue to rise probably for a week until all late registrations are in.

NEW MANAGER — Minor Haugen, 40, of Granada Hills, has been named new manager of the Sears and Roebuck Co. Automotive Center and Catalogue Order Store to be opened about Oct. 7 at 356 E. Foothill, Upland, as the first of its kind on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Haugen, married, with two boys 16 and 12, will move to Upland as soon as possible. He has been with Sears 7 years, and recently was Assistant Manager at North Hollywood.

ALHS Teaches New Biological Science Classes

Gifted students at Alta Loma High School and those less academically able enrolled this week in two new courses in biological science.

The classes were made possible when the administration sent two faculty members, Howard York and Vance Miller, to conferences set up this summer by the American Institute of Biological Science to orient teachers in methods of teaching the new concept in biological science.

Both conferences were attended by science teachers from all over the country to learn techniques in the new courses set up by the Institute under the auspices of the National Science Foundation. Emphasis is placed on laboratory experiments and the understanding of inquiry, rather than textbook study.

New textbooks which were written, tested in classrooms, revised, evaluated, and written a third time before releasing for classroom use were obtained by the two science instructors.

Miller attended a conference at Concord, which equipped him with materials and methods on teaching biological science to the less able student. "Since the course relies primarily on laboratory work, rather than the ability to read fluently, the Institute believes that anyone can be taught sophisticated concepts of science, if taught in the proper manner," Miller explained.

Because the attention span of such students is of short duration, and since they tend to become discouraged easily, each student is given his textbook a few pages at a time. After he has experimented, studied, and has been tested on the small segment, it is fastened into a holder. At the end of the course, the textbook is complete, and the student derives satisfaction from observing the great amount of work he has done — an experience which, for the most part, is quite foreign to a slow learner.

Experimental classes have proved that the less able student can accomplish a surprising amount of work in the laboratory, understand it, and retain it, Miller said. "This new course should help to fill a great gap in education."

York attended a conference at Millbrae on methods of teaching the highly gifted student.

He said, "Since written material on science doubles every five years, it is futile to emphasize only factual knowledge." Instead, the new concept of teaching devised by the Institute, concentrates on the interaction of experiment and ideas.

The course at Alta Loma High School will stress the understanding of the role of inquiry in science and the nature of biological research. The juniors and seniors scheduled into the class have excelled in basic biology and have indicated a great interest in science.

They, according to York, are ready to step into the laboratory and begin observation of the scientific process that will indicate to them what the process may accomplish in meeting challenging and urgent problems yet to be solved.

By the end of the one-year course, the students should feel at home in a laboratory, and should have the ability to design and carry out biological experiments that require skill and intellect.

York said, "We want the students to realize that knowledge is conditional and subject to modification as new information is obtained. We hope to teach them how to interpret new information in terms of major biological themes, and to achieve an increased understanding of the philosophy underlying scientific research."

Four Biological Sciences Curriculum Study laboratory blocks will be used by York in his enriched class: plant growth and development, regulation in plants by hormones, animal growth and development, and growth, nutrition, and interaction of microbes.

York explained that the primary concern of the invitation to inquiry is that of asking the right kind of questions so that answers may be properly evaluated.

The invitations involve identification of problems, formation of fruitful hypotheses, design of experiments to test these hypotheses, and interpretation and analysis of data resulting from the experimental work. They will simulate as closely as possible the thinking a scientist does in connection with actual research investigation.

The students are also oriented on the literature of science —scientific journals, structure of a scientific paper, review journals, and on how to search for literature concerning a particular subject.

Many writers have contributed to the courses, and through their observations, both York and Miller will also assist with further revisions. From time to time during the year, their findings will be forwarded to the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study group at the University of Colorado.

The new BSCS method of teaching mathematics and science was initiated at Alta Loma High School last year. Because of its great success, the program has been enriched by the addition of the two specialized classes. "We believe we are about as up-to-date as we can get," the two enthusiastic teachers said.

Sheppard Is Axed

SAN BERNARDINO (CNS) —A request for permission to name a street in a Cucamonga industrial development after Rep. Harry Sheppard was turned down Monday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The action was taken on the recommendation of the county traffic engineer's office, on the grounds that the Supervisors have set a policy of never naming a county thoroughfare after a living person.

"I hope that we can find some suitable way of recognizing the many years of service that Congressman Sheppard has given San Bernardino County," declared Mrs. Nancy Smith, Board Chairman.

Supervisor Ross Dana suggested that a school building or a county building could be named for Sheppard.

"This isn't even an important avenue they're proposing to name for him," said Robert A. Covington, county administrative officer.

Site Taken Despite Old 1889 Rights

Approval of the title report for the new South Ontario high school site was granted Sept. 7 by the Board despite reservations concerning streets and water rights.

Among the reservations is this:

"The party of the first part reserves the right of way and also the right to construct and operate railroads or tramways, whether operated by streets or avenues adjoining the land described in this deed."

Of more serious implications is this reservation:

"The party of the first part reserves the right of way over and across the said premises for laying pipes and aqueducts, and to inspect, repair, replace and control the same. "It is expressly understood and agreed that either party to this agreement may, by artesian or surface wells, or otherwise develop water on the lands hereinbefore described, of the water so developed the party of the second part shall only be entitled to sufficient water for the irrigation of said lands and for domestic, purposes, but shall not be entitled to use any of the waters so developed on any other lands, and in case of development of water on said lands, by either of the parties hereto, all of the excess of the requirements of the lands described in this agreement shall be the property for the party of the first part, and may be by it sold, leased, used or conveyed to other lands for sale, lease or use.

The Board of Trustees of Chaffey Union High School approved the preliminary title report 4 to 0 after considerable discussion. Richard Allred was absent.

Chairman Ben Allen said all property south of Phillips and east of Chi o Hills was covered by similar reservations.

He stated that in excess of 90% of the land transactions are being ignored by title companies.

The sections could be stricken from the record if the School Board would pay 2% of the land purchase price, or $7,486 to the holder of the present rights, Paul Green estate, for a quitclaim deed. Richard Gird executed the deed Sept. 28, 1889.

A new development is that once a price is set upon these reservations, they become valuable at an actual figure, which the County Assessor then asseses for tax purposes.

Member Paul Cushing led the probing into the title report, but despite his dislike for the clouds on the title, voted along with other members to approve.

It was felt that all well-drilling will cease within 10 years because of the legal fight now going on, and that since the School District gets water from the City of Ontario, there would be no need for concern over the water reservations.

The property was purchased from Armstrong Nursery.

The escrow closes Oct. 15.

Theatre Group To Introduce Cast Of Play

Gerrick Players, the local community theater group, will hold their September meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 17, at the Basement, Ontario Public Library, announced Art Jessup, newly elected president of the board.

Jere Groninger, director of "Harvey," the fall production scheduled for Alta Loma High School Auditorium, at 8:15 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9-10, will introduce members of his cast.

Maxine Coats Lents, program chairman, will present a short play.

Residents of this area interested in theater work are invited to attend.

Coffee and cookies will be served.

County Fair Hits Record Attendance With 62,840 Total

Attendance at the San Bernardino County Fair not only topped last year's six-day record of 54,519 (first time over 50,000) — it rocketed to 62,840.

Saturday, Sept. 5, the total attendance hit 16,301 which was an all-time single-day record as well.

In fact, nearly every day of the 17th Annual County Fair set new records, according to Bob Jacobs, publicity chairman.

He said that fair weather and "continued flavor of an old-time country fair helped."

Pop Warner Season Starts With East-West Footballrama

FOTBALLRAMA — EAST 7, WEST 29.

Pop Warner Football got an early start in the West End Sunday with the two newcomers Pomona and Claremont scoring handily against the veterans from Upland and Ontario.

Individual breakdown on the two Upland teams — the Upland Hawks (midget) playing a rugged defensive battle with Claremont — score Claremont 2-Upland 0.

Defensive standouts were Bobby Calderon, guard; Steve Houtz, linebacker; Scott Martin, linebacker; Mike Bivens, end; Bill Koobs, halfback; Davy Molinar, halfback and game captain.

The offense never started clicking — the best offensive play of the day was the quick kick on 3rd down.

For the Upland Falcons (Pee Wee) score Montclair 7-Upland 0 — this was a wide open game between the two giants of last year with Montclair coming out on top — however, Upland was on the five yard line 1st down when the quarter ended.

Each team representing its area played one quarter, taking the ball over from the preceding team. Offensive standouts for Upland were Tom Bishop full back, and T. J. Quinn end. Top play was a pass and a weaving run by Quinn which narrowly missed being a touchdown.

The regular season opens Sunday, Sept. 20, with the Hawks and Falcons taking on West Ontario Trojans and Bandits at Chaffey High. First game starts 1:30 p.m. There is still room on both teams for a few qualified boys. Practice sessions Olivedale Park (Hargis Field) 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Pettis Dinner Set For Sept. 21

William E. Cozo of San Bernardino, who has played the role of toastmaster at dinners for many public figures including the Governor of California, will be master of ceremonies at a $15 - a - plate campaign dinner for Congressional candidate Jerry Pettis on Monday, Sept. 21, at the Orange Show Empire Room.

The guest speaker will be a Democrat, Edward R. Annis, M.D., of Miami, Fla., internationally known surgeon and immediate past president of the American Medical Association and the World Medical Association.

County Peddler Ordinance Too Broad, Board Told

SAN BERNARDINO (CNS) —A new county ordinance controlling peddlers would prevent ice cream trucks, brush salesmen and door-to-door purveyors on beauty preparations from calling on the same customer more than once a month, the County Board of Supervisors was told Monday.

Norman Hanover, attorney for a group of persons accused of illegally selling goods to farm laborers in the Cucamonga area, said the new law was aimed directly at his clients, but would affect many others.

The Board asked the county counsel's office for an opinion on Hanover's views.

The new law was passed after complaints against the peddlers at a site on Arrow Route, adjacent to the labor camp. In addition, a restraining order against the peddlers has been obtained, and Marshall Miles, deputy county counsel, said Monday that there was no selling at the site last weekend for the first time in many months.

Free Classes Now Offered In Boat Handling, Navigation

Free classes in boat handling and basic navigation are being offered to the public through the Covina Power Squadron, a unit of the United States Power Squadrons, according to your local Public Relations Representative, Dave Beitzel, Upland.

The classes will be held each Thursday night beginning Sept. 17 at the Ganesha High School in Pomona, Room 91. New boat owners are invited as well as seasoned mariners who want a brush-up to upgrade their boating I.Q.

Classes will be taught by volunteer experts who will lecture on their particular specialty. Each class will last for two hours, and the entire course will take 13 weeks to complete. Home work problems will help the boatman become more familiar with the material being covered.

Included among the items taught will be Rules of the Road, Nautical Charts and how to read them, the Marine Compass and how it works, various buoys and aids to navigation and what they mean, lights that affect the mariner, and many other topics.

The United States Power Squadron is a national boating service organization, and is the largest independent educational organization in the United States. In 1964 USPS is celebrating 50 years of boating service.

Registration for the Piloting Course is free. It is being taught as a public service by the United States Power Squadrons in conjunction with the adult education school program at Pomona. Please register at 700 N. Gibbs, Pomona, prior to Sept. 17, 1964.

For further information write or call Don Benart, 11788 Ramona, Chino; telephone NA 8-3286.

Anti-Prop. 14 Committee Meets Sept. 20

Mayors of Ontario, Montclair, and Chino head a list of community leaders who are sponsoring the West End Committee Against Proposition 14. The list was released by Ralph H. Miller, Upland Realtor, who heads the Committee, as he announced a campaign kick-off meeting set for 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 20 at the Elks Club, 1150 W. Fourth St., Ontario.

Proposition 14 is the November ballot measure to nullify California's civil rights laws in the field of housing and to prohibit future legislation in this area.

Mr. Miller named as sponsors of the Committee the following:

Upland — Eugene Nisbet, State Senator; Rev. C. Richard Mitchell, Clergyman; Lyal D. Asay, M.D.; W. W. Mather, Attorney; Rev. Richard Pitts, Clergyman; R. L. "Mike" Rossiter, Upland City Councilman.

Montclair — Mayor Ken Ziebarth, Dr. Walton E. Cole, Unitarian Society of Pomona Valley, Montclair.

Cucamonga — Dr. Pearl Clark, Upland College; Rev. Claude E. Love, Cucamonga Community Methodist Church; Robert E. Latham.

Alta Loma — Kenneth C. Hinrichsen.

Chattin' with Chad

by Carolyn Chadwick YU. 2-4259

The time of change is here, school has begun and our lives take on a different pace. Nature changes now too. Next Tuesday marks the official first day of autumn.

Stephen Sneed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Sneed, has returned home from a visit with his grandparents in Kansas. His grandmother Mrs. John Wiedeman is visiting here.

Miss Pam George has begun her first teaching job this week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald George. She teaches third grade at Fremont Hills School in Palo Alto. Her parents visited her Labor Day week end. They were able to visit her school. While up North they toured San Francisco. Miss George is sharing an apartment with Miss Emmy Lindsey of Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Essenwanger have returned from a month's vacation at San Diego. They were accompanied by Donny Johnson. They camped at DeAnza Cove with a vacation trailer, and enjoyed the area sights including Tiajuana.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Larson and sons, and Police Captain and Mrs. Fred Strohte and children were also down.

The Gene Alair family recently spent about a week and a half on their boat at Newport before starting the fall routine.

Mr. A. A. Fierke, father of Mrs. Earl G. Purvis left last Saturday for his home in Kokomo, Ind. He spent about three weeks visiting the Purvis family.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Maxwell are enjoying having their family together for the first time in about four years.

That's all for this week. Be seein' you. Don't forget if you know of any news give me a call.

Upright Piano Is Offered To Any Group

Any worthy, non-profit organization that needs an upright piano?

There is one available for the asking.

Just call Virginia Becker, 759 Birch, Upland, YU 5-1341, and discuss the matter with her.

The piano has a solid cast iron sounding board, and although used, is serviceable.

It probably will take three men to move the piano . . . and Mrs. Becker said she has to have it out of the house by Friday.

Genealogical Group Enters 10th Year

The Pomona Valley Genealogical Society, now entering its tenth year as a Civic Organization in this community, will present at their first meeting of the 1964-65 season, Tod J. Andersen, of Claremont and a native of Elsinore, Utah, who will speak on Scandinavian Genealogical Research.

The meeting is to be held at the Westmont Community Building in the Lounge at 1801 W. 9th St., Pomona, in the Westmont Park at 8 p.m. Monday, Sept. 21.

The public is invited to attend.

There will be a short business meeting to complete revision of the constitution and bylaws and to elect new members to the Board of Directors.

Beulah Circle Plans Sale Of Rummage

Beulah Circle of Upland First Methodist Church held its first meeting of the fall Sept. 10, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Smith, 1087 W. Arrow Highway, Upland.

Mrs. Robert Clarke, chairman, called the meeting to order and presided over the business session.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held at the church from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 2 and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Harold Stickney. It is being sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Announcement was made of a Beulah Circle coffee hour to be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday, Oct. 16 at the home of Mrs. Alan Bescoby, 806 N. Euclid Ave., Upland.

Members of Ruth Ann Circle will be guests. Announcement was also made of a Chrysanthemum Tea and fashion show to be held at the church on Nov. 19, by the Women's Society.

The program was presented by Mrs. Elias Martinez who spoke of experiences during a recent trip through Mexico. Her talk was illustrated with snap shots taken during the trip. Mrs. Martinez's son, Richard, entertained the group with the playing of his guitar and singing, "Little Red Wagon" and "Donkey Song."

A pledge service was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Cooper and Mrs. George Bean.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table set with silver tea service and centered with a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Loren Moore and Mrs. Dwight Campbell served as co-hostesses.

School Board Validates Employment

The Board of Trustees of the Upland School District on Sept. 8 approved the employment of the following classified personnel:

Mrs. Ruth Stewart, snack bar cook at Pioneer Junior High at $1.54 per hour.

Mrs. Emma Claire Tauro, central office clerk for Donald Shattuck and James Smith at $2.03 per hour.

Change in status of Mr. Douglas Allen from half-time head custodian to full-time head custodian at $449. per month.

Slides Of Trip To Mediterranean Shown Methodists

The Evening Service Guild of the Upland Methodist Church met recently at the home of Mrs. C. J. Bennett, 313 Matsonia Court, Upland.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Bennett were Mrs. Merrill Conn and Mrs. Ira Francisco.

Mrs. Watts Cate, Chairman, presided.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Charles Perrin.

There were 20 members and one guest present.

A program was presented by Mrs. L. H. Banta and Miss Mabel Breneman. They told of their recent trip to the Mediterranean area and the Holy Land. Slides of Spain, Portugal and Egypt were shown.

Some of the highlights of this particular part of the trip included: the University in Lisbon with its beautiful mosaics: the Valley of the Kings along the Nile River in Egypt and the Mosque of the Thousand Lights in Egypt and the Pyramids of Egypt.

Mrs. Banta and Miss Breneman reported seeing the tallest obelisk in the world which is 100 ft. tall.

The museums, which in many cases were former palaces, are very beautiful and contained mummies covered with precious stones. They also enjoyed a thrilling ride on a camel.

A rummage sale will be held Oct. 2-3 at the New Fellowship Hall.

Upland Chapter Honors BPW Charter Founder

Mrs. Isobel Klein, of 132 E. 9th St., Upland, was presented with an Honorary Life Membership in the Upland Business and Professional Women's Club Sept. 10, during the regular dinner meeting of the club.

The presentation was made jointly by Mrs. Zella H. Stone, Past State President, and Mrs. Flo Basinger, Membership Chairman.

The certificate was prepared by Immediate Past President, Fern France.

Mrs. Klein, was a member of the group called together in St. Louis, Mo., in July, 1919, which resulted in the organization of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Mrs. Klein was the first woman admitted to the bar in the state of Arkansas, but was practicing her profession in St. Louis at the time of the organizational meeting.

She has held membership in several states during her career, and is now retired, and resides at the Upland Inn.

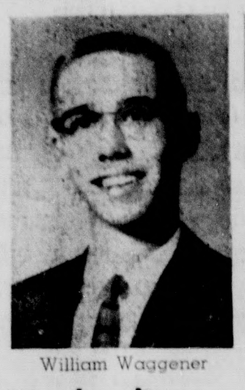

She is a direct decendent of Francis Lewis, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and was extremely active in the woman's suffrage movement.

Club President Bernice Weatherhead presided over Thursday's meeting, which was the first meeting of the fall season held at the clubhouse. During the summer months, the club enjoyed informal meetings, such as picnics and a trip to the Melodyland Theatre in Anaheim.

Mrs. Earl Riggs, Legislation Chairman, presented two speakers, who discussed the pros and cons of Ballot Proposition No. 14. They were: Mr. Robert L. Henley, of San Bernardino and Mr. John L. McGlothin, of Pomona, both Realtors familiar with the problems involved in the issue of Proposition 14.

The discussion was presented to give the members insight into the issue, but no official action was taken by the club.

The tables were decorated in red, white and blue flowers by Mrs. Edith McNabb. Other members of the Legislative Committee assisting Mrs. Riggs were: Mrs. Mildred Hamilton, Mrs. Leona Young, Mrs. Evelyn Null, Miss Kathryn Wormley, Mrs. Adah Thompson, and Mrs. Esther Black.

William Waggener

Methodists Obtain New Choirmaster

A new Choirmaster, William Lloyd Waggener, joins the music staff of the First Methodist Church of Upland this month.

He will assume direction of the Chapel Choir, composed of junior and senior high school students, and will also direct the Chapel Handbell Choir which has appeared in concert before numerous local organizations.

Waggener is a 1963 graduate of Pomona College with a B.A. degree in music.

During his college career he was student conductor and president of the Concert Band and student conductor of the Concert Choir.

He served as business manager and assistant conductor of the Men's Glee Club, sang with the Blue and White Quartet and was a member of the Symphonic Orchestra and the Polyphonic Chamber Choir.

This summer Waggener completed his teaching internship at Claremont Graduate School and will teach science and mathematics at Fremont Junior High School in Pomona.

Other members of the music staff at the Upland church include Carl Hess, who is returning after a one year absence to resume his position of Director of Music and Choirmaster of the Cathedral Choir.

Also returning are Mrs. Helen Blanchard as Choirmaster of the Children's Choir and Mrs. Mary Jane Hess as Organist.

A son was born at 4:54 a.m. Sept. 3, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Simmons of 114 N. 12th Ave., Upland, in San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland.

Bacon Burns, Curtains, Too; That Phone!

Burning bacon resulted in a house fire at 3:33 p.m. Sept. 3, causing $505 in damage.

Upland Firemen were called to the home of Joe Caruso, 319 Azure Ct., Upland, but the fire was put out by a caretaker with a hand extinguisher before their arrival.

Gary Caruso, 13-year-old son, forgot he was frying bacon on the stove while he was talking on the telephone.

The bacon caught fire, and as Gary put the burning bacon and pan in the sink, the curtains caught fire.

Firemen were at the scene for 22 minutes as a result of the general alarm.

Damage to the drainboard and window frame totaled $500, and the curtains $5, fire reports show.

Chaffey Opens Grid Season With Apaches

Head coach Bill Gable's smallest and lightest Chaffey football squad in six years will lift the curtain on the 1964 grid season at 8 p.m. Saturday by traveling to Chula Vis- with ex-Eastern Conference foe Southwestern.

Not only do the Panthers wish to initiate their slate on a winning note, but also to gain revenge for a 20-0 scalping suffered at the hands of the Apaches during last season's EC campaign.

Reporting to Gable when practice got underway at the first of the month were 46 young and determined hopefuls, but the candidate list has now increased to 52.

Wingback Earl Nursement, the only returning regular from last season's team which garnered a share of the Eastern Conference's fourth spot, tops a slim group of eight lettermen.

Chevron winners besides Nursement are ends "Rip" Stephens and Mike Smith, tackle Ralph Milhiser, quarterback Harry Luciani, halfback Harold McClellan, and fullbacks Steve Fite and Gary White.

Nursement, Milhiser, McClellan, Fite and White are expected to play key roles for the Panthers on both offense and defense.

Outstanding newcomers are end Rich Hargrave (Upland High), tackle Bob Vandervort (Ambridge High, Pa.), guard Dan Finfrock (Redlands High), center John King (Chaffey High), and halfbacks Mike Prosser (Chaffey High), Gary Fite (Chaffey), and Doug Nelson (Chaffey).

Gary Fite is perhaps the most versatile performer on this year's Chaffey football edition, being a better-than-average punter and place kicker in addition to his ball-carrying ability.

Three brother combinations are represented on the red and white clad grid squad from Alta Loma. Making up one set of brothers is the trio of Steve, Gary and Dean Fite, another is Doug and Tom Nelson, and finally the duo of Ralph and Chuck Milhiser.

Gable and his assistants "Willie" Richardson, George Colbath and Austin Snyder haven't decided the starting lineup for the inaugural contest and probably won't indicate any starting positions until just before game time.

Coach Snyder, who is tutoring the backfield corp, joined the Panther coaching staff this season after serving at Fontana High School since 1954. Football fans will remember Snyder as a member of the Chaffey College Rose Bowl champions.

Kaiser Safety Official DiesSuddenly

George F. Nuernberger, 50, superintendent of safety at Kaiser Steel Corp., Fontana, died Sept. 10 in Los Angeles of a heart attack.

At the time of the attack, he was on business in Los Angeles. He was given emergency treatment and taken to Central Receiving Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

He lived at 6644 Hellman Ave., Alta Loma. A native of Wisconsin, he came to Alta Loma seven years ago from Arlington Heights, Ill.

He was a member of Bethal Congregational Church of Ontario, the Cucamonga Lions Club, the Safety Committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute, the American Society of Safety Engineers, the National Safety Council, the California Employes Safety Committee and the Kaiser Steel Management Club.

Mrs. Gladys Reese saw no evidence that people in other countries do not like Americans during more than two years in deepest Africa.

Speaking to a meeting of the Inland Literacy Council at the First Methodist Church in Ontario recently, Mrs. Reese said that she met only friendliness in the interior of the Congo during more than two years that she spent there as a teacher in Laubach Literacy work.

As an example of the care that was given to Americans, Mrs. Reese said that when her companion, Miss Jean Del Martre, was knocked down in the street by an intoxicated man on a bicycle that the people nearly mobbed the man.

Mrs. Reese's first task in Africa was to learn Swahili. She did this by teaching English to natives who taught her Swahili. As soon as she had learned enough of the native language, she started teaching it to the people. She had the satisfaction of seeing her pupils progress to the point where they could read the Bible in Swahili.

The Laubach Method is designed so that her students can teach others so Mrs. Reese's work will be multiplied many times.

Mrs. Reese will continue her Laubach work locally.

Funeral Services For Mr. Mashburn

Funeral services were held Sept. 8 at Stone Funeral Home for Herbert G. Mashburn, 73, of 110 E. F St., Upland, who died Sept. 4 at his home.

He was in failing health for several years.

A resident of Upland since 1925, Mr. Mashburn was born April 5, 1891 in Oaksdale, Wash. He was a retired farmer, and formerly has lived in Montague. He resided in California since 1912.

Dr. Rufus W. Oakey, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Upland, officiated at the services. Entombment was in Bellevue Mausoleum.

Memorial contributions are asked to be made to Casa Colina Rehabilitation Center.

Surviving are his widow Ella May Mashburn of Upland; a step daughter, Mrs. Jean Wickizer of Yucaipa; a step-son Leslie Wampler of Orange; two sisters, Anne Mae Mashburn and Mrs. Solomon Rosenburg, both of Upland; two brothers, W. E. Mashburn of Upland and J. R. Mashburn of Rosalia, Wash.; and five grandchildren.

COENS GREET DAUGHTER

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Coen of 10775 Central Ave., at 2:03 a.m., Tuesday, Sept. 8., in San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland.

$7500 Fire Hits Garage, Automobile

A short in the wiring of an automobile caused fire damage to a garage estimated at $2,500 and damage to contents and to a 1962 thunderbird estimated at $5,000.

Upland firemen were called to the home of Jack Rasmussen, 161 N. Laurel Ave., Upland, at 6:02 a.m. Sept. 1, to handle the fire.

Firemen said the blaze began from a short in the wiring of a 1960 Corvair and spread.

A glass door pane and a window pane in the house were broken from radian heat.

Traffic Safety Survey Due

years ago, the only youngster thus killed in a 10-year span, it was noted.

Upland's rapid growth is contributing to the changing needs of traffic safety programs, it was pointed out.

The complete resume concerning the Upland School District participation in School Crossing Protection as presented to the Board by Vern Orum, Assistant Superintendent, is as follows:

In the past, the matter of school crossing protection has been entirely within the confines of the responsibility of the City of Upland.

Whenever parents would call the central office of the School District pertaining to this particular subject, it was more or less automatic that they be referred to the City of Upland and specifically to the Chief of Police.

With the rapid development of the City of Upland, several street corners are now being used by large numbers of vehicles as well as substantial numbers of children.

The number of telephone calls received by the central office of the Upland School District has increased greatly and likewise, the demand placed upon the Police Department has increased to the point that the Chief of Police called upon the City Council for a solution to the problem.

Attached is a letter from Mrs. Bonita Hunt, City Clerk, addressed to the Board of Trustees and also enclosed is a report of the Police and Fire Committee which was signed by Mr. Gibson and Mr. Rossitter. (The NEWS printed this report in a recent issue).

It has now been established that the California Vehicle Code Section 21367 requires that the board of trustees of a school district has the responsibility in initiating additional school crossing protection.

We spent some time with the County Counsel in order that we could determine the exact legal responsibility of the school district in this area. Briefly this responsibility is as follows:

1. If a parent or parents contact the school district requesting school crossing protection at a given point, and if in the judgment of the board of trustees there is reason to believe danger exists, then the board of trustees shall request of the city that a study of this particular crossing be made.

2. The city shall then conduct the study and report back to the board of trustees, the results of the study with specific recommendations.

3. If the city in its study determines that a crossing guard is needed, then the city shall furnish and pay all costs. If the study determines that some other means of school crossing protection is indicated, such as flashing signals (at a cost of approximately $1,400), then one-half of the cost shall be borne by the school district.

The City of Upland has, this past year, furnished a crossing guard at each of three locations, namely 11th and San Antonio, 5th and Arrow and Campus and Foothill.

Inasmuch as both the School District and the City have received requests for additional school crossing protection, it is now clear that the School District must bear the responsibility in initiating a study to determine the needs at these additional points.

It would seem that our School District could assume one of these two positions:

1. As each request is made by parents, the District officially request the City to make a study of that particular point, or

2. A cooperative effort be made between the School District and the City of Upland to study the entire area and establish certain yardsticks to be used in determining whether a crossing guard will be furnished, flashing signals, or some other school crossing protection.

Since the results of such a study would in all probability become policy, we are using this means to bring this important matter to the attention of the Board of Trustees prior to the regular meeting to be held on Sept. 8.

Baldy View PTA Honors Teachers, Officials At Lunch

Mrs. Frances Mitchell, principal, and the teachers of Baldy View Elementary School, were the luncheon guests of the Baldy View PTA officers and chairmen.

Salads, rolls, and desserts were served buffet style in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Delbert Hensley, PTA President, introduced Harold W. Cook, Superintendent of Schools, and James Smith, Assistant Superintendent of schools, who were special guests.

Each faculty member, PTA Board member, cafeteria manager and assistants, and custodians also were introduced.

The luncheon was under the direction of Mrs. Donald Tedford, courtesy chairman.

Mrs. Bert Sheets, hospitality chairman, served coffee and donuts to the parents of new students at Baldy View Elementary School on the opening day of school.

Alta Loma High School Adds 14 New Teachers

Alta Loma High School "came of age" with the beginning of the 1964-65 school year on Sept. 14.

At that time, the school began operating as a four-year high school.

Fourteen teachers and one counselor are added to the staff to take care of the increased enrollment.

Mrs. Pauline Myers, previously on the staff of Upland High School, joins the counseling staff of Alta Loma High School.

Mrs. Lucille Laub, formerly of Chaffey High School, becomes a member of the business education department.

Forrest Anderson, also a former Chaffey High School teacher, will teach world and United States history.

New to the Chaffey Union High School District, and to Alta Loma High School, are 12 staff members.

Martin Balding, industrial arts, is a graduate of Long Beach State College. He was president of the John Muir Club, member of the Interclub Council, Epsilon Pi Tau fraternity, and the Westminister Fellowship Club. He came to Alta Loma from Catalina Island, where he taught at Avalon High School for four years.

Lowell Battcher, industrial arts, attended Chaffey College for two years, and is a 1964 graduate of Fresno State College. He was a winner of the silver "C" award at Chaffey College, and sophomore vice-president. He is a member of Epsilon Pi Tau fraternity, and a musician, with special skill on the trumpet.

Donald Bowers, music, is a graduate of Fresno State College, with his Master's degree from California State at L.A. He taught for eight years in Upland schools, and for three years at Azusa High School before joining the Alta Loma High School. He is active in community choral work.

William Colby, history, is a graduate of Claremont High School and Pomona College. He recently completed his M.S. degree at the University of Wisconsin where he was a teaching assistant. He was active in extra-curricular fields, including class offices and assistant football coach.

Mervin Corner, music, is a graduate of UCLA with six years' experience in the Santa Ana and Anaheim schools. He served in the Air Force for six years, also.

Alex Coronado, Spanish, is a graduate of Arizona State University. While attending the University, he taught elementary school. He was a member of every language club at the University.

Miss Saundra Cox, physical education, is a graduate of Arizona State University. She was a member of the Women's Athletic Association, the Sun Devils Archer Club, and the Associate "A" Club. She is a talented artist, and has displayed her paintings in a number of art exhibits.

Gilbert Extale, busines education, is a graduate of San Jose State College. He served two years in the Army, and was a sales representative of the Wilshire Oil Co. He obtained his teaching credential after attending California Polytechnic College, Pomona.

Miss Carol Lee Hall, English, is a graduate of Arizona State University, where she earned her Master's degree. During the summer of 1961, she taught English in a school in Switzerland, where the the basic language was French.

Alan Rhodes, History, is a graduate of Colorado State University. He attended college on an athletic scholarship, and Alta Loma High School is his first teaching assignment.

Miss Mary Wheeler, English, is a graduate of Arizona State University. She taught previously at Chandler High School, Chandler, Ariz. Rey Ysais, mathematics, is a graduate of the University of California, Riverside. He taught for three years in Pico Rivera, and then attended San Diego State College, obtaining his M.A. degree in mathematics.

The new teachers met with the administrative staff Sept. 10, and were guests at an informal luncheon. On Thursday, and Friday, they joined the staff and administration in a series of orientation meetings.

Cal Poly Honors Four Uplanders

Four Upland area students are among 235 collegians honored by being named to the 1964 President's Scholastic List of California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg Campus, Pomona.

The recognition by President Julian A. McPhee is earned by students who have maintained a 3.0 grade point average (B) or better for all work taken at Cal Poly.

The honored students include:

Warren W. Curtis, sophomore electronic engineering major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne O. Curtis, 2519 Cypress Drive;

Conrad E. Johnson, 19, freshman electronic engineering major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walco P. Johnson, 807 N. Tenth Ave.;

Howard M. Simpkinson, 22, senior electronic engineering major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Simpkinson, 912 N. Third Place; and Neil A. Storms, 25, junior social sciences major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Storms, 575 N. Campus Ave.

UHS Gridders Seek Speed

this weakness through speed and aggressiveness.

With the addition of the three Pomona High Schools to our league we look forward to a real tough season.

There is not one single breather on our schedule, opening up against Servite High School in Anaheim on Thursday night Sept. 24.

Our second practice game is against Eisenhower Saturday night Oct. 3 on the Colton field.

To date we have no standout stars on our squad but as the season progresses you will see improvement by most of the boys.

It will be an interesting football season and we will have a team the Upland community will be proud of.

Hope to see you at all our games. We need your support.

Conservative Club Slates Rummage Sale

The West End Conservative Club, a chapter of Young Americans for Freedom, is sponsoring a rummage sale from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday Sept. 19 and 20.

The sale will be held at the Upland Republican Headquarters, 406 N. Euclid Ave., Upland.

The proceeds of this event will be used to help finance the Goldwater for President campaign in this area.

The chairman is Manon Brooks and co-chairman is Sally Chouinard. These persons are assisted by Jean Bell, Gary Webber, and Dick Davidson.

Anyone wishing to donate time or rummage may call either Mrs. Brooks at 982-6824 or Mrs. Chouinard at 984-4701.

Rummage Sale Set To Aid Goldwater

A rummage sale by the West End Conservative Club, a chapter of the Young Americans for Freedom, will be held from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sept. 19 and 20, to raise funds for Republican Presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Persons desiring to donate items for the sale should contact Mrs. Kenneth Brooks, YU 2-6824.

GD ADJUSTS WAGES

Hourly employees at General Dynamics/Pomona who currently receive a cost-of-living adjustment will receive an additional one cent per hour effective Sept. 7. The increase results from the Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index published for last July.

ON FAIR COMMITTEE

Bill Landecena of Upland and Ben Allen of Pomona are members of the Los Angeles County Fair Junior Livestock auction advisory committee.

Digital Computer Course at Chaffey

A course in Digital Computers is being offered during the fall semester at Chaffey College.

This course, designed for electronics technicians, consists of three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory work each week. All of the basic principles of modern digital computers will be presented in the lectures.

The laboratory work will consist of learning how to use Boolean algebra to design and analyze the various circuits which are used in digital computers.

The laboratory will be equipped with twelve Digital Trainers, designed and built at Chaffey College. These Trainers have been found so effective for this type of training that Long Beach State College and Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo are using them in their labs. Many other schools and military organizations all over the country are planning to use them in their computer courses.

SBA Interviews

A representative of the Small Business Administration from Los Angeles will be in San Bernardino next Monday for individual interviews with small businessmen.

F. X. Saulnier will be at the Redevelopment Agency offices at 362 N. Arrowhead Ave., Suite 306, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Sept. 21. Appointments may be scheduled in advance by calling the Chamber of Commerce at TU 5-7515.

Pettis Exposes Foreign Aid 'Blood Letting'

America's foreign aid program is draining the life blood of the American people and weakening rather than strengthening our ties with many of the nations that get it, said Jerry Pettis, candidate for congressman from San Bernardino County.

Speaking at a breakfast kicking off his campaign at Upland, Pettis said:

"You can't buy friends on an international scale any more than you can on an individual basis.

"I don't need to tell you this kind of friendship lasts only as long as the money holds out—and often not as long as that.

"We gave Indonesia $880 million and on May 25 of this year President Sukarno said, 'To hell with U.S. Aid!'

"What is particularly galling is the fact that Sukarno has been taking our money and spending it in Russia and Red China.

"Equally upsetting is the fact that we still insisted on giving Sukarno $10 million in our latest foreign aid bill.

"And to heap insult on injury, Sukarno has been using our aid money to finance attacks — the latest less than a week ago — on neighboring Malaysia, which gained its independence and was recognized by Indonesia.

"With our incredible policy of handing out huge sums to anyone who comes along, we try to buy friends, placate our enemies and influence the fence-straddlers.

"As a result we wind up financing the military adventures of power-mad dictators like Sukarno in Indonesia and Batista in Cuba and turning the people of these countries who should be getting the aid against us.

"We finance the peccadillos of irresponsible and corrupt political tyrants who use the money to aggrandize themselves and live in splendor you and I can never hope to see.

"We throw away our taxpayers' money on fantastically ridiculous projects — a $34 million fertilizer plant in Taiwan that doesn't work; $400,000 for battery-powered TV sets in remote jungle villages; suits for undertakers in Greece; a stock breeding farm in Lebanon that has nine stalls for each bull; a huge half-billion dollar dam in Kenya that could supply that primitive nation with every conceivable power need for the next 200 years; a $3.1 million air-conditioned yacht for the emperor of Ethopia; an $18 million highway in Viet Nam that wound up costing $129 million; and even extra wives for government officials in Kenya!

"We have spent $124 billion directly and nobody knows how much indirectly on foreign aid. The interest alone runs $11 billion a year — the second largest item in the budget.

"And our national debt is $313 billion — $105 billion higher than the combined debt of all the other nations in the free world — most of whom receive aid from us.

"France got $9.5 billion and is flirting with Red China. Tiny Cambodia got $307 million and is leaning toward communism. We pumped $5.4 million into Korea so fast they couldn't spend it all. We gave Pakistan $1.9 billion and she is edging up to Red China. Tiny Ghana in deepest Africa got $156 million and is firmly in the Red camp. India got $4 billion and continues to straddle the fence.

"Even Latin America sopped up $8 billion and we haven't made a dent in the power and social structures that so often turn against us. They seize our property and insult our flag while taking our money.

"Communist Yugoslavia got $2.4 billion and continues to play cat and mouse with us. Poland has received $522 million.

"Name a country and chances are it's on our handout list. Money alone won't buy friends or convert enemies or move the fence-straddlers.

"Foreign aid must be administered with good sense to countries with sound governments pledged to a sound program of helping themselves—not as a dole to lazy, ungrateful, immoral or unworthy nations that squander the money and hold out their hands for more while their starving, illiterate poor remain unfed, uneducated and unemployed.

"I propose a massive review of the whole program and I pledge my efforts to develop a new, imaginative foreign policy not based on dollar diplomacy but on good sense and sound management to regain American initiative and leadership in world affairs."

Jerry Pettis opened his campaign for election with an appearance Sept. 8 at Upland.

Pettis, 48, businessman and former Loma Linda University development director, said volunteer precinct workers will be the mainstay of his campaign, with major emphasis on organizing every precinct in the county.

Although nominated on the Republican ticket, Pettis said he will seek the support of voters of all political faiths.

"All persons who share with me a concern over the growing drift toward socialism are invited to join in helping reverse that tide," declared Pettis.

He began the day with a kickoff breakfast with community leaders in the county's west end.

The breakfast, sponsored by the West End Pettis for Congress Committee of 100, was held at the Stuft Shirt Restaurant in Upland.

Ontario auto dealer John Cooper, chairman of the Committee of 100, and Montclair Mayor Kenneth G. Ziebarth, Jr., vice-chairman, acted as hosts.

TV Science Show Goes 14 Years

"Science in Action," which has won almost a score of national awards during its 14 years on television, moves to a new time and station beginning Sept. 15 — Tuesdays at 8:30 p.m. on KCOP, Channel 13.

Schools throughout Southern California utilize the program as assigned homework, following up with classroom quizes, discussion and projects suggested in a "Study Guide" provided by the sponsor, Southern California Edison Co.

The utility firm is beginning its fourth year of local sponsorship of the educational series with a record number of school requests for Study Guides and with heightened confidence in the show's ability to merge scientific and entertainment values on the screen.

The half-hour series explores areas as new as space travel and as old as the solar system, with Dr. Earl S. Herald, California scientist, and John Milton Kennedy, TV and radio network performer, acting as program hosts.

The "guest stars" are famous scientists, each an authority in the field being presented.

Mobile TB X-Ray Program Starts

The Mobile X-ray unit of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Bernardino County will begin its fall program in Ontario at the Oasis Youth Club, Transit and Euclid Avenues on Sept. 28 and 29.

The hours will be 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 3 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. William Walk, Jr., member of the Board of Directors of the Association, and Mrs. Hildegard Sampson, Chairman of the American Red Cross Chapter of Ontario will be in charge of all arrangements for the X-raying program in Ontario.

All persons over 18 years of age are welcome to be screened without charge for tuberculosis and other lung diseases. However, foodhandlers and others, wanting reports for employment purposes, will be charged $1.

Convalescent Hospital Gets Planners OK

(CNS) — Plans to erect a $1,500,000, 150-bed convalescent hospital on a two and a half acre site in the Redhill area of Cucamonga cleared the County Planning Commission on Sept. 3.

Frank Morris, architect for the builders of the proposed hospital, appeared before the commission to get approval of the site, on the south side of San Bernardino Road, west of its intersection with Foothill Blvd.

Morris said that at least 100 beds would be in the hospital, with 150 beds if prospects justified it. He added that he represented a firm which is in the hospital business and is considering another San Bernardino project.

The plot plan for the hospital indicated the sponsors are Continental Pacific, Inc.

Opposition to the hospital was voiced by Melvin Fuller, representing, he said, the operators of two convalescent hospitals now operating in the Upland area. He told the commission that one hospital has 100 beds and is planning to add 100 more, while the second hospital has 160 beds.

"That makes 20 beds available now," Fuller said, "and there is a question of the saturation point for the area."

Morris declared that his clients were about to embark on an intensive feasibility study for their project. He said that all permits and clearance with local officials had to be obtained first. These have been obtained, so now the study will begin, he stated.

The architect assured the commission that the project would not be started unless the feasibility study showed the hospital was needed and would make a profit.

The commission then approved the site for a hospital, but imposed these conditions: That 14 feet for widening San Bernardino Road be granted, that it be improved to county requirements with curbs and gutter, and that the conditions of the State and Cucamonga fire authorities be met, that the conditions of county and state health departments be fulfilled and a wall be built between the hospital parking area and adjacent residential developments.

Miller Heads Anti-Prop. 14 Committee

A committee headed by Ralph H. Miller, Upland Realtor, has been organized to work for the defeat of Proposition 14 on the November ballot. Proposition 14, if passed, would nulify California's civil rights laws in the field of housing and prevent future legislation in this area.

The group, called the West End Committee against Proposition 14, is made up of citizens of Upland, Montclair, Cucamonga, and Alta Loma, Chino, and Ontario.

Glenn Hayes is vice-chairman, Herbert C. Swim is treasurer, and Mrs. Dorothy Stevenson, secretary.

While the committee is nonpartisan and inter-faith in make-up, Miller explained that it grew out of the concern of several lay church leaders to make known the facts about Proposition 14 to the area voters.

"Many people think that Proposition 14 is only repealing the Rumford Fair Housing Law," Miller explained, "but in fact it goes much farther. If passed by a majority of the voters, it would amend the State Constitution; not only nullifying the Rumford Law and other laws in the field of housing, but also prohibiting the enactment of any future laws in this vital problem area by the state legislature or even by any county or city government body.

"Many of the people who would favor repealing the Rumford Act are against Proposition 14. We are convinced that when the voters are informed of the extreme nature of Proposition 14—which has no counterpart in any other state, north or south —they will reject it," he said.

Serving on the Steering Committee of the West End Committee Against Proposition 14 are Ronald L. Rossitter, Rev. C. Richard Mitchell, Mrs. Joseph Hecht, Mrs. Harold Bailin, Paul Kennedy, Ted Jones, Clyde Madden, Robert Latham, and James T. Lynch.

Persons interested in working with the committee are invited to call Ted Jones, 984-0494, or Jim Lynch, YU 2-2089.

DAUGHTER ARRIVES

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Mauel Vallejo of 9610 Poulsen, at 8:02 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 29, in San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland.

Coin Club To Hear Talk On Transportation Tokens

The Upland Coin Club meets in the Woman's Club House, 738 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, at 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19.

The speaker for this meeting will be R. B. Carter of San Gabriel who will talk on Transportation Tokens.

Mr. Carter has a display of some of these tokens which will be available to see at this meeting.

Members are reminded to bring a display of numismatic interest.

There will be refreshments, door prizes, and many other surprises in store for all who attend.

Visitors are welcome to attend this and subsequent meetings of the Upland Coin Club.

Planners OK Alta Loma Zone Change

(CNS) — Another change of zone delayed for many months due to proposed revisions in the Chaffey College Community Master Plan was approved Sept. 3 by the County Planning Commission.

The commission voted unanimously for a change from lots with 20,000 square feet of area to those of 12,000 square feet for a 29-lot subdivision of single family dwellings on 10 acres on the west side of Amethyst Ave., south of Banyan Ave.

The applicant was Western Valley Mortgage Corp., and Garnett Jones, of the county planning staff, reported to commissioners that they had postponed the zone change request six times.

Jones added that the "transitional area," between 19th Ave. and south of Banyan where Supervisors recently approved a greater residential density than allowed the rest of the Alta Loma community includes the Western Valley Mortgage Corp. property.

To grant the zone change request, Jones said, would be consistent with the changes in the master plan approved by Supervisors.

Jack Curry, vice president of the mortgage company, told commissioners that his company was ready to start work on the development just as soon as the change of zone was approved.

Harold Blatz, the owner of adjacent land, spoke in favor of the rezoning. He said he thought it would be good for the community.

There was no opposition. The change was approved unanimously by the commission.

Among the subjects to be stressed at the conference will be urban management goals, research and advanced techniques of urban management, solving urban problems, the role of the professional in local government, management responsibilities, and the economic problems of cities.

Consider New Site

acres of vacant property at this location offered at $265,000. There would be some additional property to purchase to complete this area so as to be appropriate for the Civic Center.

The committee found it was necessary to have additional property appraised before reaching a final decision and requests the authority from the City Council to have the appraisers make the necessary appraisal.

The committee voted to recommend to the City Council that the Civic Center not be located at Foothill Blvd. and Euclid Ave. In this connection the committee chairman has received a number of telephone calls from interested citizens urging the location of the Civic Center on Foothill Blvd. Also, many suggestions have been received to build a second story on the present City Hall.

The committee has considered this and it is a possibility. The committee points out, however, that any additions or improvements requires (by ordinance) more parking space, which is not available. Also, such an addition might be sufficient for the present but the committee is planning the Civic Center for an eventual population of 65,000 to 75,000.

The Upland Public Library Board has by formal action requested the committee to include the library building in the Civic Center and to have competent authority to furnish necessary assistance in library layout.

A meeting of the Capital Improvements Committee with the space study firm of Anthony & Lankford is scheduled for Oct. 8, 1964.

Post Office To Expand Christmas Delivery, Services

Longer post office window hours, expanded delivery services and large-scale extension of the ZIP-coded parcel post speedup are planned for Christmas, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski has advised the local Postmaster, Mr. John W. James.

Mr. Gronouski outlined to the Upland postal head, three major new steps he has taken "for the best Christmas mail service the Postal Service has ever had:"

1. Expanded post office window hours Dec. 5 to 26 as deemed necessary by the local postmaster.

2. A six-day week Dec. 7-31 for parcel post deliveries, instead of a five-day week.

3. Completion by Nov. 1 of Phase III of Zip Code parcel handling at about 130 more "sectional center" post offices (strategically - located mail massing points), providing faster delivery up to 24 hours or more for parcels with ZIP Code.

In Phase I and II, approximately 75 offices with receipts of $3 million annually and above activated faster ZIP Code sorting and dispatch by Sept. 1. The 130 in Phase III includes offices with receipts of $1 to $5 million.

In addition, many other sectional center offices with smaller receipts will have the program in operation by early December, in time to help speed delivery of Christmas gifts mailed with the ZIP Code.

The Upland Post Office is presently sending ZIP CODED PARCEL POST to the Outgoing Mail working facility at Pomona, Calif.

The Postmaster General told Mr. James the Christmas plans are part of a nationwide program to bring postmasters into more responsible positions in postal management as "real partners in providing better mail service at all levels."

Members of the Upland Kiwanis Club are selling tickets.

Excavation Approved

SAN BERNARDINO (CNS) —Permission to excavate 18,000 cubic yards of material from Montclair Basin No. 1, in the local flood control district, was granted Monday by the County Board of Supervisors to Laird Paving Co.

The materials are vested in the Chino Basin Water Conservation District, Supervisors were told. County approval for the transaction was required because of the flood control structures in the area.

Supervisors gave permission for the excavation, for which the Chino Water Conservation District is to receive payment, upon Laird Paving Co.'s agreement to meet the requirements of a three-page document protecting all interested parties that the flood control department had prepared.

Teachers' Manual Is Issued

A complete new teachers' section of the Administrative Manual has been issued by the Upland School District.

The new folder incorporates all the changes in the law right up to the present, and to local Board policy.

Copies were given to the Board of Trustees Sept. 8.

The manual covers the rights, duties and responsibilities of the clasroom teacher.

While not expected to provide solutions for all problems, the manual "at best may furnish guidelines leading to the answers to some questions," according to the Foreward by Supt. Harold Cook.

He said "It is our hope that, through the medium of this statement of policies and recommended procedures, the role of the classroom teacher in meeting the many responsibilities of the profession is made more meaningful.

Upland College Student Teaches In Nashville

"Eight weeks cannot change a problem which has existed for over 200 years, yet it can be a start if more people will work at it and not only send missionaries to African Negroes while they leave American Negroes to endure shame and derision."

This was the impression gained by the Student Body President of Upland College in a summer's work in the South.

Conrad Baker, Student Body President at Upland College, served as a unit leader of the Nashville Summer Service unit under the Mennonite Central Committee.

He was one of several hundred college students from all parts of the country who turned their faces southward in an attempt to help impoverished and underprivileged Negroes help themselves. He worked with six other young people in a teaching and recreational program. Conrad has this to say about his summer experience:

"Although I was never in physical danger, as some who worked in voter registration, I came away knowing that my attitudes and values were changing because of my experience. As a recreational supervisor and camp counselor, I found that no matter how free from prejudice a man thinks he is, the road of enlightenment and understanding has not been completed.

"Looking back, I feel that I received much more than I gave: learning that the worth of a man is measured more in his ability and desire than in his skin color or features; finding that comfort in a group of people is a matter of attitude toward those people; and, most important of all, finding that I knew very little about a very important situation.

"These ideas, and many more, could be written on at length, but space does not permit. What I gave, I am not sure, what I received is endless.

"I have not evaluated the situation and the attitudes of the people in the South because I was not there long enough to gain an accurate impression. However, I plan to return to Nashville in the near future. Won't some of you join me?"

Papasdorf Wins Driving Certificate

Robert Papasdorf of 2005 N. Mountain Ave., Upland, has been awarded a Certificate of Merit by the Mobile Oil Co. for winning an Economy Run Driving Test at the New York World's Fair.

The certificate was presented at a special ceremony before hundreds of visitors at the Mobile Pavilion, and commends Mr. Papasdorf as a safe and economical driver, and for achieving a safety-ecoonomy mark of 21.8 miles per gallon of gasoline over a simulated course from Los Angeles to New York.

Approximately 1.2 million visitors to the Fair are expected to participate in the driving competition, patterned after the Mobil Economy Run now in its 28th year. The objective is to test licensed drivers' abilities to get maximum miles per gallon under simulated road conditions, at the same time showing each participant how to drive safely.

Upland Day Set At County Fair

Citizens of Upland will be honored at the 37th annual Los Angeles County Fair on Friday, Oct. 2.

Two Zone Changes Set For Hearings By County Planners

Two hearings are set at 10:15 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 17, before the County Planning Commission involving Cucamonga and Etiwanda.

One is a petition from Investors Savings & Loan Association for a zone change from R-1 to C-2 on the south side of Base Line west of Archibald in Cucamonga.

The other is a zone change initiated by the Commission from C-2 and A-1 to A-1 with various parcel sizes for Tract 7290 on the east side of Rochester, between Base Line and Foothill in the Etiwanda area.

Two Grass, Weed Fires Handled

Two fires involving weeds and grass were handled by Upland firemen this past weekend.

At 8:05 p.m. Sept. 11 firemen visited property owned by William Fowler, 392 E. Arrow Highway. Fire reports state it is believed juveniles playing with matches caused the blaze.

At 5:58 a.m. Sept. 14, firemen put out a fire in a vacant lot east of Matteo's, north of Foothill.

The cuase was an electrical line between poles. The Edison Company was called to fix the line.

Four New TV Sets Bought For Pioneer

Four television sets were authorized for purchase by the Upland School District Board of Trustees Sept. 8 for use in Pioneer Junior High School.

The sets cost $672 plus $120 to install and were purchased from AudioGraphic Supply.

The sets will help to alleviate the threat of double sessions.

Three Car Fires Out On Arrival

Upland firemen handled three car fires this past weekend — with all three being out on arrival.

At 7:36 p.m. Sept. 11, the Fire Department responded to a call in the 1000 block of N. Euclid Ave., Upland. A car owned by John F. Markum, 2317 E. Orange, Upland, was on fire, caused by a leak in the fuel pump which ignited on the exhaust.

Firemen reported that the driver extinguished the fire with a quart of milk in the car.

At 9:17 p.m. Sept. 11, firemen went to 628 Ukiah Way where the wiring to the generator caused a fire in a car owned by Helen Ahern, 4934 Stearns, Long Beach. The fire was out on arrival.

At 5:10 p.m. Sept. 13, the Fire Department went to the parking lot of Food Giant Markets on Foothill. A cigarette in the front seat caused a fire in the car owned by Muriel Kuna, 715 E. 4th St., Ontario. This fire was out on arrival.

Edison Distributes Third Rate Cut

Southern California Edison Co. has received California Public Utilities Commission approval to distribute an additional $713,000 to its customers as a result of a third refund on charges the company paid for natural gas fuel used for power generation between 1958 and 1963, Edison Local Manager C. G. Shores announced.

According to a refund plan authorized by the PUC, the distribution of money available for refund amounts to 9 cents to domestic customers and 24 cents to general service (small business) accounts, Shores said.

The refunds will be shown on bills sent to Edison customers in the Sept. 15-Nov. 15 bi-monthly billing period.

County Planners Schedule Hearings On Zone Changes

Two hearings before the County Planning Commission are scheduled at 10 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 24.

A petition of Lowell A. Sorenson is on the agenda for a zone change from A-1 and R-1 to R-3 on property South of S. Arrow and East of Calaveras Ave., in Cucamonga.

A zone change initiated by the Planning Commission from R-3-10 to R-1 East of Haven and North of Highland Ave. Alta Loma also is on the agenda.

CLSC To Discuss Getting More $$$

A cost-of-living increase of $6 to $8 a month for recipients of Public Assistance and a reduction of the Social Security eligibility age for men from 65 to 62 are the immediate goals of the Old Folks Lobby in Washington, D.C., headed by George McLain.

This will be the topic of discussion by speakers of the California League of Senior Citizens at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 22, at a meeting of the Upland CLSC Club, 205 S. Campus Ave.

Upland Firemen responded to a call to Lucille's Beauty Shop, 235 E. 9th St., at 11:14 a.m. Sept. 5, because of a short in an electrical outlet used for hair dryers.

Firemen stayed 16 minutes at the scene.

Heights Tract Appeal, Slated To Be Sept. 28

Supervisors will hear an appeal at 3 p.m. Monday, Sept. 28, in the Board Chambers of a denial by the County Planning Commission of a tentative tract for a subdivision in San Antonio Heights.

The appeal has been filed by Olin Murray, engineer, on behalf of Stanley Lopat, 1142 Loma Sola St., Upland.

At stake in the appeal is building of bridges and a road for access into the area by the County.

The County Planning Commission turned down the tract for four reasons:

1—A substantial portion of the subdivision is subject to flood hazard,

2—encroachment of streets and lots on Flood Control easement is not permissible at this time which would result in substandard lot areas and lack of feasible access to lots 49 through 61;

3—Steepness of terrain would result in excessive street grades and would result in excessive cuts in the hillsides;

4—Lot design is poorly related to topography.

These reasons were cited in a letter dated Aug. 28 to Mr. Murray by Neil Pfulb, Planning Director and Leon V. Keding, Chief, Current Planning.

Mr. Murray replied Sept. 3 as follows:

Reference is made to your letter of Aug. 28. This is the first tentative tract map that I have had disapproved. I am surprised to say the least.

We granted a 30-day extension, had meetings with the flood control district, two planning committee meetings, and revised the map three times to try and satisfy the planning committee so they could recommend approval of this map.

The reports of the road department and the flood control district were favorable even though Mr. Lorin Morgan of your office did not make them available to me prior to the meeting.

The purpose of this letter is to request copies of the reports from the raod department and the flood control district. Thank you for your continued cooperation.

In writing for the appeal hearing, Mr. Murrey said "The reasons given in the Commission's report to the undersigned are unfounded. The action by the commission is in conflict with the recommendations of the Engineers that were appointed to the Planning Committee.

"No opportunity was given the Engineer to an increase in lot sizes or to revise encroachments as discussed with the Chief Engineer of the Flood Control District."

Commercial Development Plan Delayed

(CNS) — Action on a proposal to provide zoning for a large commercial development on 45 acres at the intersection of Etiwanda Ave. and Foothill Blvd., was delayed until Oct. 1 at the Sept. 3 session of the County Planning Commission.

The delay was granted at the request of the applicant, Michael Maltun.

Garnett Jones, of the county planning staff, reported that a letter from an attorney for Maltun had been received, saying that his client is in Europe and hoped the hearing could be continued to the commission meeting of Sept. 17. Commissioners decided that that session is already overcrowded, so picked Oct. 1.

Jones reported that Maltun's request is for C-2 zoning, which allows intense commercial development of property, for 35 acres on Etiwanda Ave., south of Foothill Blvd. Jones said that Maltun already has an adjacent 10 acres now zoned C-2. The change of zoning being asked is from that for single single family dwellings and apartments.

"A commercial zoning of large magnitude," Jones repeated the applicant as saying, "is the only practical use for the property, based on the price and value of the land and the amount of taxes that have been assessed."

Jones told the commission no development plan had been submitted. There were no persons at the hearing to speak for or against the rezoning.

Upland Offers Education Course

Comparative Education is a new course being given this fall at Upland College, according to Melvin E. Bowers, Registrar.

The course is an analytical and critical study of educational thought and practice in major countries and regions of the world.

Particular attention will be given to political, economic, social, religious, and other factors which influence education and public enlightment.

The course carries normal college credit.

World Champion Nine Honored By Chamber

World Champion American Legion ballplayers from Upland were honored at a luncheon Friday sponsored by the Upland Chamber fo Commerce.

About 30 persons attended the affair.

Extending congratulations were Dwight Bert, Chamber President, and Max Hawkins, Mayor of the City of Upland.

This luncheon was the first time Coach Ted Miller has had an opportunity to get together with his baseball players since the tournament.

The Chamber sponsored individual certificates in appreciation of the efforts of the ball team and for good sportsmanship.

Demos Hear Candidates, Plan Fiesta

The Upland Democratic Club held its second meeting Sept. 11 at the home of City Councilman Mike Rossitter.

Ken Dyal, Democratic candidate for California 3rd Congressional District, addresed the club on current campaign issues.

Eugene Nisbet, State Senator from San Bernardino County, congratulated the club in its initial successes in its growing membership and large registration drive.

Don Cook, Club President, said plans were made for covering Upland in the coming campaign, precinct by precinct, to get out all Democrats to vote. Anyone willing to help with this work, please call 982-3097.

The Rally Committee headed by Mike Rossitter is making plans to procure a site an stage a fiesta to raise funds for the forthcoming campaign.

The U.S. collected $1,791,618,565 in customs taxes in 1963.

Unused W. E. Water Stock Will Be Rented By Upland; Hensley - Torta Want $1200

Rental of unused West End Water Company stock by the City of Upland was authorized Sept. 4.

The rental basis agreed upon is 6% of the market value of the stock plus the annual assessments. On this basis, the West End stock would rent for approximately $22 per share per year.

Councilmen tacked on a proviso that the water must be used in the area served by West End and not exported outside the area.

Only the stock not being used currently by the City of Upland is subject to this rental. The city owns 1,481 shares in the West End, or 43% of the total stock.

Councilman James Christensen, chairman of the Water Committee, recommended the action in a committee report.

City Manager Elwin Alder agreed that rental of the unused stock should be made. He described the two new tanks of the city, and the backlog of water reserves which now total nine million gallons as giving the city protection during heavy demand periods.

He also said this approval of the rental policy was "no different" from that already done by the city in the past.

Mayor Max Hawkins noted that such leases are for periods of no more than one year, which protects the city.

In a long discussion on various water problems, Councilmen referred a letter from Hensley and Torta to the City Attorney and Water Committee.

The letter asked that the City pay $1,200 per share for two shares turned over to the City June 23.

It was pointed out at the Council table that the letter was fulfilling legal processes and to "prod the city" into doing something about the price of water stock which now is pegged generally in the $500 brackets.

Councilman Abner Haldeman noted that "I have no way of knowing what knowledge is out or who has it, but there are some pretty fancy bids being made at this point (on water stock) and I think that the news media and public may just as well know this."

He noted that some West End water stock was sold "the other day" at a high figure which he declined to reveal. He also reminded Councilmen that in years past the price of water stock was sharply different as to San Antonio and West End, and this should be watched closely.

* * *

Several times throughout the discussion the Council was urged by Councilman Ronald Rossitter to attempt to speed up the processes and study of the water situation.

The Council indicated that progress was being made and that as soon as the consultants and attorneys come up with their preliminary reports that steps would be taken to solve the problems.

Councilman Christensen informed the Council that the City Attorney has forwarded to the special tax consultants documents which provide background on the San Antonio Waer Co.

Documents handed over include the land appraisal, water appraisal, annual reports of the Water Company, financial statements of the water company, and legal opinions rendered in the past bearing on problems facing the Water Co. relative to land spin-off.

Christensen also noted that the James Montgomery Engineers have been engaged to make an appraisal of Tioga Water Company's assets and report their findings and recommendings to the city.

This report has been formulated and as soon as one of their chief engineers returns from Pakistan and reviews the report, it will be forwarded to the city. This is expected about Sept. 18-20.

Councilman Christensen also reminded the Council that in the delay recommended by the City of Upland to the proposed land spin-off of West End, that he had made a motion that the City would come back with a concrete proposal, thus speeding up matters, but he did not receive a second to the motion.

Lack of proper representation on water matters was brought out again in the discussion.

It was pointed out that West End bylaws are different from San Antonio in that no special meeting may be held to elect a new Board, that only at the annual meeting may this happen.

NDGW Hold Beach Day; Plan Visit

The home of Mrs. Bee Herzberg, 216 Lobiero, San Clemente, was the scene Sept. 2 of a "day at the beach" for members of Ontario Parlor No. 251, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and their guests.

The hostess, formerly of Upland, has resided in San Clemente for the past four years. She is a charter member of the Ontario Parlor which was instituted in December 1931.

Co-hostess for the beach party and contributed luncheon was Mrs. W. L. Alexander of Chino. Special guests were Mrs. Ed Goss of San Clemente and Mrs. Mabel Bach of San Clemente and Long Beach.

Attending the fun day were Mrs. Ted Wardell, president of Ontario Parlor with daughters, Rosana, Paula and Laura; Mrs. H. E. Rapp and Mrs. Henry P. Dunn, all of Chino.

From Ontario were Mrs. Irene Todd, Mrs. Henry Lucas, and Mrs. Ruth C. Ruth with daughters, Carolyn and Eileen, and from Upland, Mrs. Daisy Kiler.

It was also announced that Native Daughters Day at the Los Angeles County Fair would be Sept. 18.

Business transacted at the Sept. 1 meeting included a vote to change the parlor meeting place to the Ontario Woman's Club, 738 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, and this is where the next regular meeting of the organization will take place on Oct. 6.

TRUCKS FOR '65!

More models, more engines, more Chevy workpower!

The long strong line of Chevy trucks for '65 is rolling in with miles of new working equipment. Like that handsome Fleetside pickup that leads the pack . . . one of the 18 pickup models in the line this year.

Further along, you'll find economical Chevy-Vans, a wide selection of walk-in vans, a bigger choice of big trucks, more job-tailored components—trucks built to fit your business and budget. And under those hoods you'll find the best in 4- and 6-cylinder, V8 and diesel power, 18 tough truck engines in all including 4 new lower cost diesels. Here's the huskiest bunch of haulers that ever came looking for work!

Our word for all this is workpower. That's the stuff that makes a truck a real truck. A hard-nosed money-saver. Yes, workpower's here and Chevy's got it, in such a variety of types and sizes that picking the best truck for your job will be easier than it's ever been before. If you're in the market, just get in touch with your dealer.

Telephone your Chevrolet dealer about any type of truck

Dedicated To Building A Bigger And Better Community In Which To Work, Live And Relax

AN EDITORIAL

'Christian' Defense League Support Should Be Refused

IT APPEARS the diabolical Christian Defense League still is spreading its poison in the West End.

Mailings are continuing in the quest for information from businessmen as to whether they are "Christian" or not, and also there is a pitch (naturally) for funds.

It looks as though a lot of businesses will be listed, including us we suppose, whether anyone answers their mailings or not.

A letter from R. G. Butler, President and National Director, says "Business listings of firm names in each community shall fall into the following four catagories from answers received:

(A) RC—Recommended Christian contributor
(B) AC—Answers pro Christian
(C) DS—Declines to state
(D) NC—Answers non-Christian."

AS FAR AS WE are concerned, if they list the local newspaper we will be in the "decline-to-state" category. We don't give a hoot or a holler for this rabble-rousing type of organization that brings strife and discord into a community along with its race hatred. For unless you are Christian and White, you are out, brother!

We have stated before that we believe businessmen should avoid this organization, refuse to throw away their money by donating it to them, and refuse to answer their mail requests.

A lot of good their directory will be if 99% of the firms are listed under a decline to state category.

ALSO BEING MAILED is a sheet that reproduces a letter to the editor from their local representatives that we published Aug. 6.

Although not using the name of the newspaper in any respect, the reproducing of the letter appears to give the organization some "status" but it's too bad they didn't reprint the editorial condemning the outfit along with the letter.

• • •

THERE ARE TIMES like this that a newspaper wonders if publicity of such causes doesn't help them too much.

However, our first obligation is to tell the truth in our news columns, and then to take editorial stands which our readers know we do consistently.

Part of our obligation to our community is to expose that which we do not like or want.

We don't want in our community White Christian prostitutes, or White Christian criminals, yet we print stories about them.

And neither do we want the Pro-White Christian Defense League around.

The sooner all the people, and all the business folks especially, ignore this outfit and refuse to support it, the quicker it will go away or die of financial starvation.

We have enough problems in our local communities without having such a devilish creation as this in our midst.

Nisbet Reports Open Gambling Looms As Law, Order Threat

By Eugene Nisbet
State Senator

Open gambling once more looms on the horizon as a threat to law and order in California.

Complaints by some of the smaller cities in Los Angeles County have been addressed to the Legislature, stating that games operated by professionals have opened within their city limits, and are being run because of the "twilight zone" of uncertainty which now exists about municipal ordinances prohibiting gambling of any kind.

The subcommittee on gambling of the Assembly Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy recently held the first of a number of hearings on the problem.

Present were legal, law enforcement and other officials from Los Angeles and several other cities. Also in attendance were representatives of several club organizations in whose premises games have been operated.

To illustrate the problem for the subcommittee, the efforts of the City of Long Beach were reviewed.

In December 1963, the city police determined that members and guests of a certain club were playing a card game called panguingue for money, and that employees of the club were conducting the game.

Late in January, 1964, the police told the club management that any member or employee playing or conducting the game for money would be subject to arrest under the municipal ordinance.

The club management promptly filed an action in Superior Court, asking for relief and an injunction stopping city action, on the ground that the ordinance is invalid because the state has "preempted" the field of gambling by enacting a law controlling gambling, that the phrase, "game of chance," is illegally vague, and that in any case, panguingue is a "game of skill."

Before the case was heard six employees of the club were arrested, and promptly released on a writ of habeas corpus.

A temporary court order was issued, restraining the police from arrests of club members or employees pending the hearing on the injunction.

Subsequently, the Superior Court denied the preliminary injunction, and held the ordinance to be valid, but ruled that the question as to whether panguingue is a game of skill must be tried.

An appeal to the Appellate Court was turned down. Another division of Superior Court ruled panguingue a game of chance, not skill. A petition was filed with the State Supreme Court, asking that the city ordinance be held unconstitutional, and that a permanent injunction prohibiting the city police from arresting club members or employees be issued.

This case is still before the Court, thus creating at least a temporary twilight zone.

Managements of the clubs did not testify, in two cases on the grounds that it might incriminate them.

Members of the subcommittee tried to determine whether, because of similarity in operations of the clubs, "syndicate" gambling or racketeering might be said to exist, but no specific answers were developed.

One police official with long experience in vice control told the subcommittee that the root of the present difficulty lies in the state law on gambling.

It prohibits 12 games of chance by name, and also banking or percentage games where the house either banks the game or takes a percentage of the wagers, but does not directly ban all forms of gambling.

As a result, many games not specifically named, such as draw poker, are permitted and licensed in many counties. He suggested either that the law be broadened, or completely repealed, so the cities and counties can enact and enforce sound gambling laws.

Second H.S. Name Posed As Problem

What name should be given to Upland's second high school?

The Board of Trustees of the Chaffey Union High School heard Supt. Al Smith pose the problem of school names.

An immediate problem facing the district is what to call the second high school in Ontario.

High schools in the district usually go by their community's name, for example, Upland, Alta Loma, and Montclair.

The one exception is Ontario's high school which goes by "Chaffey" as a name.

The problem is whether to call the second Ontario high school, either "Ontario High School" or "South Ontario High School" or just what.

The problem in Upland will be coming up soon, too. The second high school may be called "North Upland High School," or some other name may be used.

The problem was raised. No solution yet.

FILE 13

By Walt Orvis

I knew it would happen and here I am unprepared, me, who has made as many as four PTA meetings in one evening.

Bango, or as he now prefers to be called, Steve, is going to kindergarten, and I haven't yet learned how to be a parent of a school boy.

I didn't know it was so complicated. I thought there was no difference between a parent without children in school and a parent with children in school.

But there is a big difference. I detected a different look in the principal's eye last time I talked with him. Sizing me up, I think, in a new light.

Before I had been a friend, who incidentally gave his school some publicity. I hope we are still friends.

But that principal knows his parents-of-pupils and no doubt he is wondering what kind I'll be. Who knows. I've never been a pupil's father before.

It changes my view of the school slightly, my personal view. My view as a newspaperman continues the same as ever.

But I'm trying to learn to be a run-of-the mill parent, if that will make the principal happy.

If my boy doesn't do well, I'll blame the teacher, the principal, the school district, the superintendent, the board, or anyone other than my son.

If I don't like the way my boy is treated, I'll storm into the principal's office with fire in my eye.

If I think another teacher is better than the one my boy drew, I'll insist on a change.

If I can't get it by persuasion on my own, I'll become real active in PTA, because everybody knows that if anyone is real active in PTA, his or her kids get the best teachers, the best of everything, and those who are not well known in PTA just get any old teacher, any old treatment.

I'll have my wife flirt with the principal, too.

And if nothing else works, I'll complain loudly to my neighbors. That always helps.

When the teacher wants to set up a conference to discuss my boy's progress, I'll show them, I won't go.

And I know another way, from my study of other parents, to help my boy through school. At home I'll convince him that the teacher knows nothing, that he is smarter than she, or the principal.

I'll tell him if he doesn't like the way they treat him, throw a tantrum or two, and refuse to follow instructions, refuse to obey what school authorities direct him to do.

There's a lot to being a parent of a pupil in school. I wrote these ideas down, just to set the minds of the principals and teachers at ease, so they'll know that although I'm new to the business, I've been watching other parents and not just idling away my time.

With my help and all I've learned, I figure Bango will make it through kindergarten with flying colors — in no more than six years.

Wills, Legacy Committee For City Thought Good Idea

Anybody with money to the City of Upland for park and recreational purposes?

During a discussion last month, Acting City Attorney Richard Garner told the Council that a client, whose name he could not reveal, had earmarked $20,000 to the City in his will, and for park development.

Councilmen thought it was a good idea, and proposed a Wills and Legacy Committee be formed immediately.

Upland Lion Of The Week

Earl H. Johnson, Past-president, was born in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on Oct. 27, 1890.

While still an infant his parents moved to Los Angeles, where he grew up. He attended Polytechnic High School and as his parents had then purchased citrus acreage in Chino he attended Pomona College and lived on the ranch. During the First World War he raised beans for the government until called into service.

On Sept. 2, 1920 Earl married Winifred Moore who was then teaching at Chaffey. "Winnie" afew years later became Lions Club pianist and served in this capacity for many years.

Earl joined the Upland Lions Club in 1927, becoming President in 1933.

Earl was with the Libby, McNeil and Libby Co. at the time of his marriage but soon transferred to citrus where he served first at Old Baldy and later at Mountain View Packing House. He became manager there where he served until his retirement in 1951.

Besides the Lions Club, Earl belongs to the Presbyterian Church in Upland and the University Club in Claremont.

Earl and Winnie have a second little home on Orcas Island, Washington, where they spend five months each summer.

Earl's main interest during this time is fishing for the elusive salmon and he and Winnie spend many happy hours in their boat, the "Kittiwake," fishing and just enjoying the lovely Sound with its many beautiful islands.

Harriet Scully Wins Citizenship Essay Prize

Harriet Scully, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Scully, 1629 Palm Ave., Upland, was one of two winners in a Good Citizenship essay contest sponsored by Aerojet-General's Azusa plant.

The subject of the essay contest was "What Good Citizenship Mens to Me."

The contest was open only to offspring of employees at the Von Karmen Center. Miss Scully's father has worked in the torpedo division for five years.

Contestants were divided into groups according to age with their essays limited in length. They received savings bonds as prizes.

Miss Scully will be in the sixth grade at Pioneer Junior High School, Upland. She is a member of the Upland Presbyterian Church Choir. The Scullys have lived in Upland for 1½ years.

The citizenship essay contest is part of the corporation-wide good citizenship drive, started in 1958 and held each election year, urges employees to register, contribute and vote for the candidate of their choice.

Miss Scully's essay read, in part:

"To me being a good citizen means obeying the laws of my country and being glad to obey them. It means respecting the people who have been selected to govern. It means respecting my flag . . . and learning the history of my country and its great men and famous documents. The more I learn about my country the prouder I am to be an American."

League To Meet

A League of California Cities meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 16, at Massacre Canyon Inn, Gilman Springs Resort.

AGE FOR TEACHERS—The average age of all teachers in the United States is 40, but the average of 35.9 for men is six years less than the 41.9 years for women.

The Great Discovery of the Age

Today's growing interest in spiritual healing has naturally caused many to wonder what Christian Science is and how it heals.

Here's a fine opportunity to gain firsthand information about this religion which teaches that the spiritual laws of God can be understood and applied to human problems of every kind.

Kaiser Steel Will Relocate Montebello Fabricating Plant

Kaiser Steel Corporation's Fabricating Division will relocate its structural steel fabricating operations, now at Montebello, into larger and more modern facilities at Fontana, Jack L. Ashby, president, said.

The Montebello facilities will be installed in the plant purchased last March from Taylor Pipe & Forge Works. The property adjoins the 1,800-acre integrated steel plant operated by Kaiser Steel at Fontana.

Relocation of the facilities will provide considerably more area for structural fabrication work. The 60-acre Fontana site, over twice the size of the Montebello location, will also allow for future expansion of facilities when required.

The plant's buildings are being refurbished and enlarged to handle expanded operations. When the program is completed, the buildings will include three 700-foot bays, one 90 feet in width and two 75 feet wide.

The new location places the plant next to its principal source of supply of plate, structurals and other steel products required for structural fabrication work. The site also provides rail access lines at the plant's receiving and shipping ends which will permit more efficient movement of material and finished products.

The Fabricating Division is engaged in a wide range of fabricating activities including fabrication and erection of heavy structural steel components for buildings, bridges and other major structures which will be handled on an expanded basis by the Fontana structural steel fabricating facility.

Movement of personnel and fabricating facilities, to begin shortly, will require about nine months to complete.

Engineering, accounting and other staff personnel will begin transferring to the Fontana location around Oct. 1.

Limited production operations are expected to begin around Jan. 1.

The Fontana structural steel fabricating facility will become the operations headquarters for Kaiser Steel's three southern California fabricating plants. In addition to the facility being relocated, the division now operates a plate fabricating plant and a beam welding plant at Fontana.

Political Power Course Planned

Political power among nations and causes of international tension, with case studies of recent developments in China, Berlin, Ghana and India, will be the docus of a new University Extension course at Montclair High School this fall.

Dr. Morton Schwartz, political scientist at the University of California Riverside, will instruct the course, "World Politics," on Thursday nights, starting Sept. 24. The class meets at 7 p.m. in Room 11.

Pettis Blasts 'Professional Welfare In County; Says Hundreds Of Fraud Cases Could Be Found

Abysmal laxity in the welfare program is draining billion of dollars from the American taxpayer and creating a cult of "White Tams" in American society, Congressional candidate Jerry Pettis told a Chino audience at the American Legion Hall Sept. 10.

Pettis said the "White Tams" are a group of Canadians dedicated to living off the government and get their name from the oversized white berets which they wear.

"They sport armbands which read, 'Mort Aux Taxes' (Death To Taxes), but taxes pay the $180 a month they get from the Canadian government for two years. The menfolk refuse to work, although the nearby lumbering areas are clamoring for workers," Pettis explained.

Professional loafers stretching into three generations have become a national scandal in the United States also, according to Pettis.

He said a national magazine recently devoted 23 pages to "career" welfare cases—from mother to daughter to granddaughter—to whom welfare had become a way of life from the cradle to the grave.

A New York newspaper, he said, recently disclosed the case of an unmarried New Jersey woman with 23 children, many of whom were illegitimate, drawing over $900 a month child support.

"And in our own county we have 21,000 welfare cases of all kinds. How many are cases of actual economic or physical hardship and how many are outright frauds? The authorities can't even guess because virtually the only frauds they uncover are the ones they stumble on by accident or learn about from tipsters," Pettis declared.

He said the county's population doubled from around 300,000 to 600,000 — a 100 per cent increase — from 1950 to the present, but aid to needy children alone increased 150 per cent — from about 2,000 in 1954 to 5,000 in 1964.

Pettis pointed out that the district attorney's staff assigned to welfare fraud has its hands full checking the small percentage of cases brought to its attention and there is a crying need for screening of applicants and periodic review by trained personnel.

"With a little ingenuity, almost anyone can get on welfare. I know of a fraud case reported more than a year ago. A welfare worker visited the recipient and said, 'We've been hearing bad reports about you. You're not doing this, are you?' 'Oh no,' was the reply, and she went on receiving checks for another year before there was an investigation.

"Thorough screening by trained personnel would turn up hundreds of similar cases," said Pettis.

He blamed the excesses and abuses on the fact that Washington and Sacramento have seized control of the program and make the rules, with local authority limited to little more than distributing the money.

"Responsibility for the program," he said, "must be returned to the local government to enable them to set up the machinery to weed out the professional leeches who are making our welfare program a national disgrace."

Pettis Will Talk In Upland Sept. 23

Jerry Pettis, Republican congressional candidate for the 33rd district, San Bernardino County, will address members of the Chaffey Community Republican Women Wednesday, at 12 noon Sept. 23 at Elton's Restaurant on Foothill Blvd. and San Antonio Ave., Upland.

Mr. Pettis will discuss issues in the current campaign.

Reservations may be placed with Miss Grace Siemon, YU 2-6869.

Temple Sholom Opens New School Building For Season On Sept. 13

The new Temple Sholom school building at 963 W. Sixth St., Ontario opened for the school season Sept. 13.

The congregation of Temple Sholom has expanded its educational program this year to enable every child in the community to get a Jewish education.

The standards have also been raised and are equal to those of any religious school in the big cities.

Mr. Albert Lerner, Chairman of the Committee on Education of Temple Sholom, explained the aims and the goals of the educational program of the Temple.

He stated "We were interested in giving the children of our and the neighboring communities a chance to feel at home in Judaism and thus to strengthen the link between the generations to enable the ideals of Judaism to be transmitted to the coming generations."

He also stressed the fact that a good Jew makes a better citizen; a man who honors his God and his religion is happier with himself and in his relationship with his fellow man.

He urged every Jewish parent in Ontario and neighboring communities to register their children at the new Hebrew school and take the opportunity which Temple Sholom offers them.

He also told of the great investment which Temple Sholom made in the field of education this year.

The Temple has more than trebled its budget for education.

Temple Sholom offers two programs for Jewish children.

A religious education in Sunday school, for one session a week on Sunday; in this program a child will be introduced to principles, ideals and history of Judaism.

Another program for parents who would like to have their children educated more thoroughly in Hebrew, calls for a three session a week program in which the Hebrew language, prayers, customs and laws of Judaism will be taught, in addition to the Sunday program.

The school has increased its staff of teachers and many new subjects, such as drama, songs and Israeli folk lore, will be introduced.

New Journalism Course Offered At Chaffey JC

A beginning Journalism course is being offered to Chaffey Evening College students for the first time this semester.

The class will compose and prepare for publication an evening newspaper which will be circulated to each student who enrolls in an evening class.

In addition to the newspaper project, the class studies the theory and techniques of news writing and the American newspaper as a social institution and commercial enterprise.

Curtis A. Babcock, Executive News Editor of the Ontario Report instructs the course from 7 to 10 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday.

News reporters from local newspapers, service clubs, Parent Teachers Association and Women's Clubs should find the training beneficial and interesting.

Late registration will be held through Sept. 17 from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Bailin Heads Quimby Drive For Assembly

Assemblyman John P. Quimby has announced the appointment of Atty. Harold A. Bailin of Upland as general chairman of his campaign for re-election to the State Legislature from the 72nd Assembly District.

In making the selection, Assemblyman Quimby noted that Bailin is Vice Chairman of the County Democratic Central Committee and was an active leader in 1960 of the Party's campaign in western San Bernardino County.

"I intend to wage a vigorous campaign," stated Quimby, "and I am delighted that my good friend Hal Bailin has consented to lead the fight. The problems facing our district and the entire State demand the continuation of forceful and responsible leadership. We intend to carry the message of the great Democratic record into every home in the district."

In accepting the appointment, Bailin declared: "John Quimby has given this area able and effective representation in this past legislative session. He has proven himself an outstanding member of the Assembly, widely respected and admired by colleagues of both political parties."

"Quimby's record," Bailin continued, "includes authorship and passage of many important measures, and his re-election is vital to the best interests of the people of western San Bernardino County and the State of California."

Mr. Bailin resides in the City of Upland with his wife Joan, and their three daughters, Marguerite, Victoria, and Alison.

New life line for Whiskey Springs

Wasteland turns to wonderland across the changing face of America as Edison and other investor-owned electric companies bring the transforming touch of low-cost electricity to communities with quaint names, colorful pasts—and suddenly unlimited futures.

Deserts come alive. Forgotten slopes become sports resorts. Arid acres bloom with beautiful living, as the switch is flipped that turns on the all-electric future.

And it's important to every taxpayer to note that these miracles do not wait upon government planning. They do not need to use public funds.

America's self-supporting investor-owned electric companies are able and ready to see that the clean pure power of electricity flows through the veins of any American community—without spending a penny of tax money. Not a penny.

Investor ownership is the American way, the successful way to power up a growing nation.

Investor-owned electric companies plan ahead for all-electric future

Above map shows principal electric transmission lines of the nation's investor-owned electric companies as of 1970. A major portion of the new transmission lines in the United States will be built under the companies' eight-billion dollar program.

The actual record of Edison and other investor-owned business-managed electric utility companies provides the best assurance of abundant, low-cost power for all America's needs today, tomorrow, and in the all-electric future.

GATHERED in the Upland Memorial Park for the first of the pre-school meetings are the teachers new to the Upland High School faculty and the members of the counselling and administrative staffs.

BUSILY PREPARING food for the annual new teachers' breakfast is Upland High School counsellor Mrs. Ruby Wignall.

New Teachers Eat Breakfast

The counselling staff at Upland High school held their annual breakfast in the Upland Memorial Park for the teachers new to the school.

Meeting at 8 a.m., Sept. 8, the counsellors and the administration of both the school and the Chaffey district met and breakfasted with the new faculty members.

Acting as cooks for the gathering the counsellors met at the park early, and huge mounds of bacon and eggs were piled next to freshly-squeezed juice, steaming pots of coffee, hot biscuits, and trays of butter and jelly.

Mixed in with the solid food for the breakfast were trays of homebaked cookies which were passed from person to person.

Principal Thomas Glasheen introduced the members present, and outlined the day's activities for the group.

This was the first scheduled activity for the new group, but before the week is out they were well acquainted with each other and the other members of the administrative and teaching staffs of the school and the district.

Immediately following the breakfast the group toured the area from which Upland High School draws its students, thus familiarizing the new teachers with the district.

A meeting at the Board of Education then took place, and orientation meetings at the Upland High School cafeteria followed.

The new instructors then were hosted by the local Kiwanis to a luncheon at Elton's restaurant and then they reconvened at the school for more orientation meetings.

The teachers new to the school this year are Miss Natalie Bowen, History; Miss Bonnie Breiderbach, Latin; Harlan Brown, Mathematics; William Hildebrand, History; Miss Judy Jones, English; Richard Jones, Mathematics; Mr. Maury Lowe, History; Fred Manville, English; Mrs. Edna Martz, Homemaking; Miss Roberta McGill, English; Mrs. Emil Renfeldt, Language; Miss Joan Sandquist, History; Miss Sarah Snell, Mathematics, and Mrs. Marybeth Snider, Girls' Physical Education.

Your "Highland Guide" is your official welcome to Upland High. Once again, as in past years, it calls attention to the dressing code for all students. This code prescribes both sensible and economical methods of dress for both girl and boy students.

If we all follow the rules we will all look neat, smart, and attractive.

The "Guide" also contains a detailed history of Upland High and tells the story of the Tartan, the School Seal, and the School Flag — there are pictures of each.

The Associated Student Body (ASB) is urging all students to buy their ASB cards.

This card not only supports school activities but features the privilege of free admissions to all athletic events.

To name just two more of the many benefits of the ASB card, it permits students to buy school dance tickets at reduced prices, and it serves as a means of buying your Hielan (the School Annual) at a much lower cost than the regular price.

Students are privileged, if necessary, to buy their ASB cards on a loan, or time payment plan basis.

The Annual Welcome Assembly will be held on Thursday of this week.

All campus procedures will be presented and reviewed for both old and new students.

* * *

"Howdy Hop" — a natural name for the first dance of the year, is scheduled for Friday night.

It's to be held in the gym, so socks will be in order for the covering of nimble feet.

All students are welcome.

Upland High School extends a sincere "welcome home" to Mr. Maury Lowe.

As a new member of the faculty Mr. Lowe will teach World History and driver education.

Mr. Lowe has the distinction of being the first graduate of Upland High to return as a member of the faculty.

Good luck! And may your tenure be long and successful.

Teachers Welcomed By Kiwanis

The 58 new teachers in the Upland elementary, junior high and high schools were guests of the Upland Kiwanis Club at their regular luncheon meeting Sept. 8 at Elton's restaurant.

Speaking for the club, President Herschel Glenn welcomed the teachers to the community and wished them all success in their new jobs.

T. M. Glasheen, Principal of Upland High School and H. J. Smith, personnel director for the Upland Elementary School District were special guests.

Dr. Merton E. Hill was speaker for the occasion and talked on the history and development of the school system in the West End.

Dr. Hill was the first principal and superintendent of Chaffey Union High School, starting in 1911.

After about 20 years at this post, Dr. Hill was made Dean of Admission for all campuses of the University of California where he also was a Professor of Education. Dr. Hill held these positions until his retirement.

NEW DAUGHTER

A daughter arrived at San Antonio Hospital on Aug. 29 for Mr. and Mrs. Rosendo T. Ramirez, 873 N. 9th Ave., Upland.
